

U.S. Troops Score First Major Success In Counter-Offensive

Gale Approaching Hurricane Force Batters Winnipeg

Prairie Metropolis Not Fully Recovered From Flood Hit Again

WINNIPEG (CP)—A searing thunderstorm with winds of near-hurricane speed tore through Greater Winnipeg early today.

One man died of a heart attack blamed on the gale. Four persons were injured by falling trees and three others were treated at hospitals for minor cuts and bruises. But all were permitted to go home.

Property damage is estimated unofficially at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Lightning started fires and split trees like matchwood.

The wind tore roofs from buildings, tumbled bricks on downtown streets, uprooted trees and ruined gardens, and left Portage Avenue—the main downtown thoroughfare—littered with plate glass fragments and shredded storefront awnings.

The rain and hail flooded basements and low-lying sections of road. A police car was trapped in a water-filled railway underpass.

Most of Greater Winnipeg's street lights were out for hours. Many suburban areas were without any electricity for a time.

One case of looting from a broken shop window was reported to police.

Telephone services and some telephone lines were out of action long after the 40-minute storm had passed northward across the city. The Canadian Press transcontinental leased wire was knocked out for several hours.

Meanwhile, the United States freighter Steel Rover sailed today for Saigon, Indo-China, after being subjected to a mysterious attack of gunshots Sunday near Hongkong Harbor's southern exit.

The damage was done by a shell believed to be a three-inch missile which tore through the bridge structure and exploded in a cabin. The flash injured three men. Another shell, hit the windlass but failed to explode.

The captain of the Steel Rover said five small shots came either from one of two nearby junks or the Chinese Red mainland. He then returned to harbor to stay overnight.

The Hansang radioed Hongkong for naval assistance, but reached port safely.

It was the second attack within two days in the Hongkong area.

17 Dead, 2 Missing, 60 Hurt As Bomber Crashes

FAIRFIELD, Suisun Air Base, Calif. (AP)—Flaming gasoline and exploding bombs shattered a crippled B29 bomber into bits Saturday midnight, killing 17 U.S. air force men.

Two others were missing and 60 or more persons were injured, some seriously. Many of the injured were Air Force personnel and their families, living in a trailer camp only 150 feet from the scene.

Bombs levelled the trailer area "like a giant had stepped on them," a witness related.

BUCK INVADES WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP)—Anyone lose a buck—the four-legged kind?

Found wandering among the debris left by today's thunderstorm, the buck was waiting calmly in a North-End front yard when police arrived.

Where it came from is a mystery.

Both inboard engines developed serious trouble as the wheels of the heavily laden bomber left the runway. The pilot told the control tower he couldn't raise his landing gear. This caused further drag.

He couldn't lift the plane more than 200 feet. Low hills confronted him. He tried to get back to the runway.

He almost made it. It needed less than a minute more.

Sgt. R. H. Lewis, Clay, Ky., watching as the troubled ship came swinging in on a 180-degree turn, said:

"Suddenly it straightened out, levelled and smashed its left wing into the ground."

Its 2,000 gallons of high-test gasoline spilled and fires began.

The bomber carried 10 to 12 500-pound demolition bombs. Eye-witnesses said the bombs began to explode in 10 to 20 minutes.

Seventeen bodies have been recovered. The two missing men were crew members. The four-engine aircraft crashed and exploded shortly after takeoff for a long-range training mission.

The bodies of 10 men who were in the plane were recovered. The other dead included three members of the base fire department, and a volunteer firefighter. Three other dead were unidentified.

Chinese Guns Hit British Ship Near Hongkong

Two Of 12 Shells Wound 3 Aboard

HONGKONG (CP)—Communist batteries on Chinese islands near Hongkong today hit the British steamship Hansang, wounding two British officers and a Chinese boy.

The batteries fired at least 12 shells, two of which hit the 3,541-ton Hansang, a Jardine Matheson vessel, approaching Hongkong from Sandakan, Borneo.

The damage was done by a shell believed to be a three-inch missile which tore through the bridge structure and exploded in a cabin. The flash injured three men. Another shell, hit the windlass but failed to explode.

Retake Road Junction In Drive For Chinju

TOKYO (CP)—United States troops today scored their first major success of the Korean war with the capture of a vital road junction on the approaches to Chinju.

It was the first big objective in the offensive launched early today after five bitter weeks of retreat.

About 9,000 Americans and some South Korean commando units attacked over a 20-mile-wide front. It was a hard battle but casualties were reported light.

The Allied forces clashed head-on with the crack North Korean 6th Division, backed by the Communists' 1st Division. The two number about 15,000 men.

Field reports to Eighth Army headquarters in Korea said the Reds suffered probably their heaviest casualties of the war.

Communist artillery fire, in turn, stopped an advance of supporting American tanks at a road bottleneck and hit American artillery positions. But the Americans pushed ahead without armor.

A steady stream of American replacements, fully equipped, poured into Korea to aid the advancing ground troops. (This dispatch did not say where they came from.)

Yanks Drive Four Miles In Attack

Launch First Major Offensive,
Gain Vital Junction On Chinju

TOKYO (AP)—American marines and soldiers blasted forward an estimated four miles on the southernmost front in Korea Monday in their first offensive of the six-week-old war.

The three-pronged American attack which began Monday was continuing today (Tuesday, Korean time) in a slow, difficult battle against a withering barrage of North Korean artillery and mortar fire.

A bottleneck that blocked the marines' 45-ton Pershing tanks at the outset early Monday just west of Chindong apparently had been broken. The blockade had occurred when Red artillery knocked out the lead tank, blocking the only road.

An Eighth Army communique claimed an advance of nearly two miles on a 20-mile front, but front-line dispatches contradicted an earlier report that the Americans had taken an important road junction commanding roads leading to Chinju and Sachon.

The front-line reports U.S. patrols were stopped 200 yards east of the junction by North Korean road blocks. These reports also said that a U.S. Marine Corps platoon was cut off on a mountain top.

Other reports from Reuters correspondents indicated that the North Koreans had penetrated 12 miles behind the Nakdong River defence line north of Taegu. The Communists there were said to have driven a wedge 2½ miles wide through south Korean forces, gaining heights around Pian, 30 miles north of Taegu.

The U.S. counter-attack was the first offensive launched by the United Nations forces after five bitter weeks of retreat. Some 9,000 Americans and South Korean commando units were thrown into the attack. Casualties were reported light.

The Allied forces clashed head-on with the crack North Korean 6th Division, backed by the Communists 1st Division. The two number about 15,000 men.

Would Open Way To Chinju

Capture of the road junction would open the way for a push to Chinju, vital road and rail centres, 65 miles west of Pusan, main supply port for the U.N. forces defending South Korea.

Field reports to Eighth Army headquarters in Korea said the Reds suffered probably their heaviest casualties of the war.

A steady stream of American replacements, fully equipped, poured into Korea to aid the advancing ground troops. (This dispatch did not say where they came from.)

The Reds, getting ready for a thrust of their own toward Pusan, 35 miles east of the kickoff place for the United Nations drive, hit the American right flank hard.

On the northern front the Communists began a new offensive south of Yechon, the Eighth Army communique said. Allied South Koreans were engaged in severe fighting there.

The big American push plowed into the two North Korean divisions in the rugged coastal country of the southern sector. The attack was made from the village of Kogan, 35 air miles west of Pusan, the main U.N. seaport on the southeastern tip of the peninsula.

Triple Blow Opens Attack

The Americans hit the Reds a triple blow to start the offensive. First a curtain of steel was laid down by artillery for 20 minutes.

Next fighter planes strafed and rocketed the North Korean Communist lines.

Then infantrymen leaped out of foxholes and took aim at the enemy.

Carrier-based planes supported land planes in the air attack on the North Korean forces, who were caught just before trying to jump off on a counter-attack of their own.

The attacking U.N. troops lunged from the east and southeast toward the main road between Chingam and Red-held Chinju, 55 miles west of Pusan. Chinju, now a rubble city, has been the springboard for frequent Communist thrusts at Pusan.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo said the attack was progressing on schedule. It was called an offensive—not a counter-attack. The U.N. forces late Monday were 15 miles east of Chinju.

Don Whitehead, Associated Press correspondent with the Americans, reported they met a swift and hard counter-attack from the Communists on the right flank after ramming a big dent in Communist lines.

The recapture of Chinju seemed to be the main objective of the first full-scale U.N. offensive since the Communists invaded the Southern Republic June 25.

Tank-supported marines and the 5th Combat Team had moved westward from the port of Masan under cover of American artillery and Royal Australian air force low-level bombing attacks by Mustangs.

But the U.S. drive was menaced by a Communist move from the north. The northerners were threatening to drive southwards from Ulyong, which straddles the approaches to both Chinju and Masan. This could jeopardize United Nations supply lines.

As the big push started, W. Averell Harriman, special foreign affairs adviser and assistant to President Truman, visited a front-line command post in Korea.

On his return to Tokyo Harriman said he had found American military leaders and South Korean officials "very cheerful and optimistic."

The offensive had been under way only a short time when B-29s, some of them less than six days out of the United States, plastered Pyongyang, North Korean capital, and the industrial city of Wonsan with 540 tons of bombs. This was the biggest single blow dealt thus far by the B-29s.

France Expects British, U.S. Troops For Defence

PARIS (AP)—France today announced she will spend the equivalent of $5,710,000,000 on rearmament in the next three years.

The announcement made plain the French government expects British and U.S. troops to join in forming Europe's main ground force.

"It is necessary," a government statement said, "that the United States and Great Britain take part in the common defence with sufficient number of divisions stationed in Europe."

French sources estimated the 500,000,000,000 francs ($1,200,000,000) originally contemplated for next year's military spending represented 8.2 per cent of France's total revenue. The increased expenditure, they say, would bring this to 10 per cent.

That is also the figure for Britain, who announced Friday she is ready to boost her defence spending to a total of $9,520,000,000 over the next three years.

A communique announcing France's plans put the total of her armed strength, including militarized police, at 695,000 men.

AUSTRALIANS CALL FOR PACIFIC DEFENCE PACT

SINGAPORE (AP)—Percy C. Spender, Australia's Minister for External Affairs, indicated on arrival here today he will try to interest other countries in a Pacific Pact during his coming visit to Britain and the United States. He is en route to London and New York.

He told a press conference the "necessity" continues for such a pact "not dissimilar to the Atlantic Pact." Spender said the two main purposes of his trip were to discuss the Commonwealth program of aid to Southeast Asia and to attend the United Nations' General Assembly meeting in New York.

'Copter, Man Lost In Crash In Far North

OTTAWA (CP)—A helicopter attached to the Canadian government steamship C.D. Howe has been lost in the Arctic with the loss of one man, Transport Minister Chevrier announced today.

Sam Ford, 70, of St. John's, Nfld., attached to the government's eastern Arctic patrol, was lost Saturday when the helicopter plunged into the Kaksoak River near Ungava Bay on the far northern shore of Quebec.

Two other men in the helicopter were rescued after the machine crashed just 15 seconds following a takeoff from the ship, making her maiden voyage on the eastern Arctic patrol.

Those saved were Pilot Charles Parkin and G. Johnston of Ottawa. The accident occurred as the plane took off from its special platform on the Howe's deck for a 16-mile flight into Fort Chimo.

The 58-year-old Victoria Cross winner of the First World War will be replaced in the Veterans' Affairs Department by Solicitor-General Lapointe.

Justice Minister Garson will take over the duties of the Office of Solicitor-General.

Mr. Gregg, who represents the New Brunswick constituency of York-Sudbury, will replace Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, who died suddenly last week.

Making the announcement at a press conference in his office following a morning meeting of the cabinet, Mr. St. Laurent said the government felt that at this time cabinet changes should be restricted as much as possible.

No other cabinet changes were contemplated in the immediate future.

Mr. Gregg, former President of the University of New Brunswick, joined the cabinet in 1947 as Minister of Fisheries. He switched to the Veterans' Affairs Department in 1948.

Mr. Lapointe, 38, is a veteran of the Second World War. He joined the cabinet a year after serving as Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister of Defence and of External Affairs.

Mr. St. Laurent said the government felt keenly the loss of Mr. Mitchell. It was felt that he had, to a considerable degree, the confidence of labor and of the public generally. He hoped to see that confidence continue in the new minister.

The government was happy that an experienced and "quite wise" staff was going to continue to be available in the Labor Department.

Mr. St. Laurent said he was glad that the health of Arthur MacNamara, deputy minister of labor, was such that the government could count on his wide experience to see that the department functioned in a way satisfactory to the public generally.

There was also an experienced staff to assist Mr. Lapointe in Veterans' Affairs Department.

Police Dragging After Man Jumps From Bridge Here

A man was seen jumping from Johnson Street Bridge into the harbor at 11:30 this morning, it was reported by city police.

Name of the man is not known. A driver of a wood truck and two passengers reported seeing the man jump just as bridge operator J. Nunn was about to lift the bridge to permit a tug to get through.

Police searching for the body recovered a hat. They are still dragging the harbor.

STRASBOURG, France (Reuter)—A handshake between Winston Churchill and a German today symbolized Germany's re-entry to the family of European countries as a member of the Consultative Assembly of the Council of Europe.

5,000 Canadians To Korea Front

Realistic Dummy Sparks Excitement

Sirens screamed up View Street. Two city police patrol cars and an ambulance roared to Cook Street in answer to a telephone call that a man had fallen off his bicycle and was seriously injured. What they found was a dummy. It had been placed there by three 14-year-old boys as a prank. Sprawled over a baby buggy, it made a realistic picture of an injured man. Spectators appeared to enjoy the joke. Police didn't. Boys will be boys, but they thought this prank was going too far. They pointed out if a real accident had occurred at the same time, the ambulance would not have been available for the emergency.

Immediate Start On $40,000,000 Pulp Plant At Duncan Bay

Announcement of plans for an immediate start on construction of a $40,000,000 pulp and paper plant at Duncan Bay, three miles north of Campbell River, confirmed a major addition to the industry of the province, Vancouver Island in particular.

The announcement was made through the offices of Hon. E. T. Kenney, Minister of Lands and Forests, by the presidents of two lumber companies—H. J. Malkin, Canadian Western Lumber Co. Ltd., and Paul E. Cooper, Pacific Mills Ltd.

Their companies are forming the Elk Falls Co. Ltd., which will build and operate the new plant. They will own the new company equally.

First planned unit of the company will be a mill designed to produce between 75,000 and 100,000 tons of newsprint annually.

The initial unit will provide employment for 500 men and will require about two years to build.

Work of preparing and clearing the mill site will start at once.

The mill will secure water and power requirements from the John Hart development of the B.C. Power Commission on Campbell River approximately three and a half miles from the mill site.

The company will utilize timber from a Duncan Bay forest management license.

Until regenerating timber on the management license reaches cutting size for pulpwood, wood requirements will come from salvage operations and small diameter wood not at present being utilized.

Young Sailor Critically Hurt In Window Fall

Robert L. Twiter, 23-year-old sailor, who fell 29 feet from the Loron Hotel, 536½ Johnson Street, Saturday morning, was still in a critical condition early today, it was reported by the Naden Naval Hospital.

Twiter fell from an open window in a hallway of the hotel into an inside light well directly across the room occupied by the sailor. He was first taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital suffering from a fractured skull, concussion, broken clavicle and broken shoulder.

Later, the sailor was transferred to the Navy Hospital.

Charge Arabs Hit By British Planes

CAIRO (CP)—An Arab League informant says Aden-based R.A.F. planes killed several Yemeni tribesmen last week in raids near the border between Yemen and Britain's Aden protectorate. British officials were not available for comment.

A similar incident occurred last September, when British planes bombed Yemeni tribesmen alleged encroaching on what Aden authorities considered their territory.

British and Yemeni representatives meet Aug. 25 in London for talks to try to determine the borderline and settle other territorial claims.

Premier On Radio At 6 p.m.

OTTAWA (CP)—The cabinet moved today through the final stages of a series of meetings that have reached agreement that Canada should recruit a special brigade group for service under the banner of the United Nations in Korea.

The brigade would consist of three battalions and supporting arms and would run to around 5,000 men. It would be earmarked for service in Korea.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, announcing to a press conference shortly after 1:30 p.m. E.D.T. that he expected to announce a number of decisions in a national broadcast at 9 p.m. E.D.T. (6 this evening, P.D.T.), indicated the cabinet in encountering no serious disagreement. It met at 11:30 a.m. and adjourned at 1 until 2:30. Only three ministers were absent.

Meanwhile, down Parliament Hill from the cabinet meetings, army recruiting officers worked on a civil service holiday to prepare the new drive for the men to fill the special brigade's ranks. They only awaited the signal from the cabinet to touch it off.

MEN INQUIRING

Mr. St. Laurent made no direct reference to any decisions to form a force for Korea, but he did so indirectly. When reporters asked if they would be able to get elaboration on any points in his broadcasts—there is a second one in French at 9:30 p.m. E.D.T. (6:30, P.D.T.)—the Prime Minister said "the men enlisting" will want to know details and the army would have to have them ready.

The broadcast tonight will not announce any specific date for a special session of Parliament to ratify the dispatch of ground troops, Mr. St. Laurent said. He indicated he wants more time to get prepared before setting the date.

$200,000,000 MORE

However, he is expected to announce there will be a special session, that Canada will expand her defence program to a pace that may cost another $200,000,000 or more a year and that the regular army will lower or broaden its standards in seeking men for the home forces.

Mr. St. Laurent said there would be no official statement on the cabinet's decisions before his broadcasts.

Mr. St. Laurent said the cabinet had been giving "a lot of attention to the international situation and we fully expect to reach decisions in the course of the afternoon." They would be announced over the radio.

45,000 Japs Flee Floods; Fear 50 Dead

TOKYO (Reuter)—The 45,000 inhabitants of two towns and six villages northeast of Tokyo fled from their homes today as flood waters, smashed dykes and covered at least 10,000 acres.

More than 50 lives were feared lost.

The Oga River, swollen to six feet above the danger level by a continuous, out-of-season downpour in the last week, broke through the dykes at Takasu village, 100 miles northeast of here, early today.

Two thousand houses in Takasu and neighboring Roukugo were soon submerged to the eaves.

Ten firemen on duty at the point where the river broke through were reported missing. Forty other persons were feared to have been swept away as they ran from their villages.

The muddy floodwaters surged through the towns of Toride and Soma and the villages of Kobumma, Sanno, Terahara and Ino.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

SHAWNIGAN SAGA

IT WAS MY good fortune to spend a few days at Shawnigan Lake last week as the guest of friends who have a cottage on a point in one of the loveliest and less populated parts of this lovely lake. And, in keeping with the spirit of my intention, as announced in this column a few days ago, while there I would exercise with the same thoroughness with which I would shun the plague.

In fact for several days I did nothing but laze—the telephone forgetting and by the telephone forgot. And a lot of lazing was done in a rocker on the veranda from which I could simply stare. As the poet said, "What is this life, if full of care, we have no time to stand and stare?" Well, I sat and stared.

SAT AND STARED

AND WHO wouldn't just want to sit and stare when there is so much loveliness to stare at? I never tired of watching the sunlight play on the dappled waters, of seeing it chase the shadows over the distant hills, turning the jade green of the pine and fir into dark blue; of seeing the sun go down in a blaze of glory behind those same hills, leaving behind it a turquoise matrix sky in which the stars came out later and shone like jewels in a sapphire setting.

Of seeing the moon come up over the steep hill behind us and light a path across the waters to the distant shore, as if to show me that neon lights, with their garish glare, couldn't begin to compare with the amazing effects which Nature produces with her particular brand of illumination.

BIRDS AND BLOSSOMS

WHEN I WASN'T watching the lake, I was entranced by the antics of the birds that frolic in the trees at this particular spot. Tiny chickadees that flit from bough to bough, swaying upside down in their eagerness to catch some tasty morsel of insect food; flickers that endlessly run up and down the side of the trunks, poking and prying for their own particular brand of grubs.

Then there were the humming birds, exquisite little feathered monoplanes, darting hither and yon among the rose-colored petunias, dipping deep into the blossoms and then into that in search of something sweet and toothsome, poising in midair, with tiny wings beating a rhythmic hum, before going on to the next foraging mission.

THE GRAND TOUR

ONE AFTERNOON we made the grand tour of the lake by boat. From the front seat of the launch, facetiously known as the Queen Mary, I noted with amazement the extent to which the lovely foreshore of the lake is being built up, and was not surprised to learn that there is very little left with water frontage.

Where not so many years ago there was just a fringe of somewhat neglected-looking, shack-like summer camps, dependent upon oil lamps—and, outside, what the house agents in England euphemistically call the "usual offices"—today smart, modern bungalows are springing up overnight, complete with electricity, refrigerators and inside plumbing of the fanciest style.

SMALL BOYS THE SAME

BUT WHILE the old order of summer camp may be changing, yielding place to new styles, I noticed that the small boy doesn't change much when it comes to summer camps at lakesides. I noticed little tads slipping in and out of the water, swimming like eels, splashing and shrieking with laughter. I noticed one youngster starting out with his dad in a rowboat, all ready for a fishing trip.

In his faded jeans, with the telltale patches on the seat, and his old straw hat, the eager anticipatory look on his face, he was the reincarnation of Huckleberry Finn and all the other urchins of that ilk. And as I watched him, almost bursting at the seams with excitement, I breathed a little prayer that, no matter how modernized summer resort buildings may become, small boys at summer camps will always be small boys—the same today, tomorrow and forever more. Amen!

DRUNKOMETER TO GET TEST

SASKATOON (CP)—Drunk driving will be a major topic at the September convention here of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada.

Some 175 police chiefs attending the meeting will see a "drunkometer" demonstrated. This device establishes, by breath blow into a balloon, or by chemical analysis of blood and other body liquids, the percentage of alcohol in the blood.

Island Fires Take Big Toll

CAMPBELL RIVER (CP)—Forest fires continued to take heavy toll during the week-end in the Elk Bay district; 23 miles north of here.

The loss included $75,000 to the Girdway Sawmills operation, destroying 3,000,000 board feet of cold deck timber and a donkey engine.

A combined B.C. Forest Service and Girdway crew of 60 men brought the flames under control.

A 50-man patrol is still on the fire scene at the Bloedel, Stewart and Welch operation near Menzies Bay in the Campbell River district. Some cold deck timber was damaged, but there is no estimate of the loss.

One-Killed, Two Hurt

VANCOUVER (BUP)—One person was killed and two others seriously injured in two traffic accidents in Vancouver Sunday.

Mrs. Helen O. McCarter, 78, died in hospital shortly after the car in which she was riding crashed into a telephone pole.

Mrs. Helen E. Schultz, daughter of Mrs. McCarter and driver of the car, was seriously injured when the vehicle swerved from the road.

Edward Jarvis, 48, suffered serious chest injuries when the car in which he was a passenger collided with a trolley bus. No one aboard the bus was injured.

The national council of the W.I.U. said Sunday, "Unity is required to increase wages and improve working conditions for woodworkers."

The I.W.A. has a membership of 27,000. Ernie Dalskog, former I.W.A. leader, headed the Woodworkers' Industrial Union when it broke away in 1948.

At the time of the split, Danny Redford, B.C. director of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said the move looked very much like a last-ditch attempt of failing and desperate labor leaders to form a Communist labor group in Canada.

The move was marked by violence between members of the opposing factions, charges of misappropriation of funds and libel suits.

The union would remain in existence and members had been told to go back to the parent group, officials said.

Playground Tennis Tournament Opens

Ladysmith Plans Best Fair To Date

LADYSMITH—Belief that this year's fair to be held Sept. 20 and 21 will prove the best Ladysmith Agricultural Society has ever promoted, was expressed by Alan McDonald, president, at a meeting to discuss final arrangements for the fair.

There will be a heavy cattle class added, but poultry exhibits have been canceled for the present, on the advice of the provincial authorities, in view of recent outbreaks of Newcastle disease.

Judges for the fair will include: R. L. Williams of Summerland, cattle; T. J. Gould, Nanaimo, flowers; Mrs. Frank Reed, Ladysmith, women's work, and E. W. White, Victoria, vegetables and fruits.

Junior Calf Club members who exhibit this year have an opportunity to win $50, to be awarded on the basis of a written essay, in addition to evaluation of interest taken in the work. The money is to be used toward purchase of a thoroughbred calf.

Rough Seas Halt Yacht Log Race

Rough seas Saturday forced U.S. and Canadian power boats to abandon the Capital City Yacht Club's sixth annual predicted log race from Canoe Cove to Friday Harbor, San Juan Island.

The initial legs were described as almost perfect, but seas got heavy in Swanson Channel, east of Moresby Island, and the craft returned to Canoe Cove.

Later in the day, when the wind had subsided somewhat, many boats headed for different points on their own.

It is planned to hold the predicted log event in the near future.

Strill At Large

BURNABY (BUP)—Ellis Lancelot Grenek, 39-year-old trustee who escaped Saturday from Oakalla prison farm was still at large today despite a police manhunt.

Prison officials said Grenek disappeared while he was working in the blacksmith shop. He had served two months of a six-month sentence for fraud.

Search Ends For Island Plane Wreck

NANAIMO (BUP)—Provincial police ended their search for a reported plane wreck north of Nanaimo late Sunday after finding no trace of a crash.

Constable P. R. Hutchinson, leader of a nine-man search party which hunted through the Copley Mountain Range for two days, said the area had been covered "with a fine tooth comb."

An air search by an R.C.A.F. helicopter and a Dakota transport was called off Saturday because of bad weather.

2 Deaths As Gale Batters Winnipeg

Prairie City Not Fully Recovered From Flood Hit By Big Thunderstorm

WINNIPEG (CP)—A searing thunderstorm with winds of near-hurricane speed tore through Greater Winnipeg early today.

Two men died—one of a heart attack blamed on the gale and the other was electrocuted when he picked up a live wire in suburban Elmwood. Four persons were injured by falling trees and three others were treated at hospitals for minor cuts and bruises. But all the injured were permitted to go home.

Property damage is estimated in a water-filled railway underpass. Most of Greater Winnipeg's street lights were out for hours. Many suburban areas were without any electricity for a time.

One case of looting from a broken shop window was reported to police.

Telephone services and some telegraph lines were out of action long after the 40-minute storm had passed northward across the city. The Canadian Press transcontinental leased wire was knocked out for several hours.

Felt His House Bouncing

One householder said the wind, which reached 68 miles an hour in gusts at Stevenson Airport, "seemed to be making the house bounce all over the yard."

The police radio system was jammed with storm-damage calls. Burglar alarms were set off by the score, including some at downtown banks. Wind pressure on windows and doors and rain-caused short circuits were blamed.

The storm started suddenly about 12:20 a.m., C.B.T. Sheet lightning blazed across the sky almost constantly. Tremendous gusts of wind whirled clouds of dust through the business section before torrential rain soaked roads and open spaces.

It was nature's second crack at Winnipeg within three months. Early in May the Red River, which flows between Winnipeg and adjoining St. Boniface, started a month-long rampage. That disaster did more than $25,000,000 damage and put one-sixth of Greater Winnipeg under water.

Damaged Places Suffer

Some properties damaged by the flood suffered again in today's storm.

Clarence Lee, 64, got out of bed to close a window against the wind and rain. He suffered a heart attack and died almost immediately.

A live wire was laying across the sidewalk near the home of 40-year-old Paul Chmilar. He picked it up in an attempt to move it away and was electrocuted.

One person was hurt when a tree hit a bus. Three others were hurt when another tree hit a car. Three more were treated at hospitals for minor injuries.

None was detained overnight. Long-time residents said this was the worst storm of its kind since June 23, 1922, when most of southern Manitoba was lashed by terrific wind that killed four persons and did several million dollars worth of damage to buildings and crops.

Weather bureau reports indicated today's storm was much smaller in extent. It raged across the city from the southwest.

20 Alarms In 2 And Half Hours

Fire department headquarters received 20 alarms within 2½ hours. Two fire trucks answering calls were among motor vehicles stalled by the heavy weather.

Trains carrying Winnipeg residents home from beach resorts on Lake Winnipeg were delayed by trees across the lines.

A foot-bridge across the Red River in suburban St. Vital was torn loose from its mooring on the Winnipeg side.

As water rose in the streets and power lines snapped, streetcars and buses were stranded. The roof of a building at Ellice Avenue and Maryland Street was carried about 300 feet by the wind and landed on a taxi. Timber, masonry and bricks were strewn in the intersection. Three gasoline pumps in a filling station were wrecked by part of the roof.

FLIN FLON, Man. (CP)—Threatening skies Sunday afternoon opened wide with a torrential rain.

A-Bomb Now Says Presbyterians

CHICAGO (AP)—A Presbyterian pastor Sunday urged immediate use of the atomic bomb in Korea.

Dr. Clinton C. Cox said in a sermon: "The atomic bomb is the most convincing argument that can be used on the Reds. They are fanatical cowards, just as all fanatics are. When they see they are losing, our victory will be easy."

Accident Victim

VRAA, Denmark (CP)—Niels Zakariassen, 64, a farmer from Alberta was killed Sunday when struck by an automobile. He had been visiting relatives here.

TOKYO (AP)—Nineteen Japanese were killed, 58 are missing and 196 were injured in floods caused by a three-day rainstorm in eastern Japan. Japanese authorities reported today. The flood waters covered 128,000 acres.

Chinese Near Hongkong Shell British Vessel

HONGKONG (CP)—Communist batteries on Chinese islands near Hongkong today hit the British steamship Hansang, wounding two British officers and a Chinese boy.

The batteries fired at least 12 shells, two of which hit the 3,541-ton Hansang, a Jardine Matheson vessel, approaching Hongkong from Sandakan, Borneo.

The damage was done by a shell believed to be a three-inch missile which tore through the bridge structure and exploded in a cabin. The flash injured three men. Another shell hit the windlass but failed to explode. Meanwhile, the United States freighter Steel Rover sailed today for Saigon, Indo-China, after being subjected to a mysterious attack of gunshots Sunday near Hongkong Harbor's southern exit.

The captain of the Steel Rover said five small shots came either from one of two nearby junks or the Chinese Red mainland. He then returned to harbor to stay overnight.

The Hansang radioed Hongkong for naval assistance, but reached port safely.

It was the second attack within two days in the Hongkong area.

The stories in Boccaccio's Decameron were supposed to have been told by ladies and courtiers in retirement during the plague in Florence in 1348.

Controls Should Be Re-Imposed

EARLIER THIS YEAR THERE WERE signs that the cost of living in Canada would show a reasonable decline by the late summer. Those signs had vanished before the Korean affair began. Prices of basic food commodities were soaring by the end of June. Meat was expensive then. It is out of the reach of many purses now. Several staple durable goods back in May were beginning to follow meat. The upward movement is still noticeable. Building costs already had gone far out of line before the "naked aggression" of the Communists over the 38th parallel became a new reminder that another global conflict would upset the whole economic and social apple cart.

On top of all this, of course, demands for higher wages for less work have been tumbling over one another with monotonous regularity. Some of these have been granted in part without serious industrial dislocation. But even the cent-or-two-an-hour compromise—without a strike—has obliged the average family, one way or another, to take into consideration its pressure on the normal allocation of the weekly pay cheque. And in the great majority of cases, meaning the preponderant mass of unorganized workers, there is little or no elasticity in this regular or irregular recompense for services rendered.

With all this plainly before us, therefore, what can be done about it? What can be done to combat an ominous trend which seems to be tearing a bit off the good old-fashioned, highly-respected dollar bill almost every week? One answer to this latter question is a simple one. Without any further delay, and particularly in view of the threats to world peace as reflected by the events in Korea—plus the intransigence of the Soviet Union's current president of the Security Council—the Dominion government should consider the imposition of specific controls with respect to those commodities which normally stock the family larder and those materials upon which various phases of industry depend for continuance of their ability to find work for Canadians.

Of course, we shall be told that the imposition of any form of government control is always a species of restraint of trade, that it challenges the prerogatives of free enterprise, that its implications encourage the establishment of "more bureaucracy" at Ottawa. Such argument is not worth a minute's thought now. This newspaper was one of the few in Canada which continually warned its readers in particular and the public in general against the high-pressure tactics of the lobbyists who invaded Parliament Hill in Ottawa by the score as soon as the curtain went down on the Second World War. They wanted all the controls taken off too soon. We feared they would be argued against such a procedure. Now is the time, then, to re-impose some of them—before that steadily-increasing cost-of-living mercury gets to the explosive point and blows the top off the economic barometer.

They Advertise Their Own Error

IN THE THROES OF A HOT AS WELL as a cold war against Communism, it is easy to understand the sensitivity of feeling caused in the United States by citizens who journey abroad to say harsh things about their native land. The State Department of the neighboring republic, no doubt with such a feeling in mind, has issued orders to the F.B.I. to stop singer Paul Robeson from leaving the country. Robeson on several occasions while in Europe has been outspoken in comparing the Russian and American ways of life, to the detriment of the latter.

How the United States Government retaliates—in this case he has been ordered to surrender his passport—is entirely the business of our neighbors. But the fact that Canada harbors a number of similar persons who apparently delight in going to Europe to run down their country and their fellow citizens, gives the question equal interest on this side of the border. The first impulse, of course, is to silence such maligners. Tim Buck and Dr. Endicott, for instance, have done much by their utterances abroad to give a bad impression of life in Canada. But to forbid them to leave the Dominion, or, having got rid of them, to forbid them to return, would be playing the Communist game. Democracy should not stoop to the tactics of totalitarianism, however annoying it may be to have to refrain from using the heavy hand.

The piping voices of these un-Canadian emissaries, moreover, evoke a very important echo. All who see them go abroad to revile their own land and then return to it in perfect safety must be impressed with the freedom of speech which they thereby demonstrate. A country which permits that, people will reason, must have some admirable institutions. And, noting the complete absence of adverse critics within Russia and the fact that all who escape must hide in foreign lands, they will be able to draw their own conclusions in comparing the two ways of life.

In The Cause Of Health

THIS IS A MEMO TO HIS WORSHIP

Mayor George and his aldermanic colleagues: Would it not be a good idea to assign one piece of the Fire Department's equipment a couple of evenings a week to swill down the accumulated small refuse of the day? We put it this way because medical men—without, of course, mercenary motives—figuratively rub their hands with glee in the warm summer months. Summer colds and other ailments to which the human frame is heir have the knack of thriving on what is scattered by the zephyrs that are not always gentle hereabouts. Victims of such depredations, with hospital insurance and other guarantees against the cost of illness, fill the waiting rooms of medical practitioners. Doctors, being human beings would be less than human did they not welcome an influx of business at any time of the year. But they, as good citizens, are more mindful of the health of the community than they are—to use a colloquialism—of the amount of their take-home pay. It is for this reason that we suggest the City Council take under early advisement the desirability of devising ways and means of supplementing the present sewerage service in this capital city of the province of British Columbia. Finally, refuse, particularly in the down-town area, is a poor advertisement for our tourist trade.

Fear, Arrests And Deportation Mar Life In Communist Hungary

By ERIC GEDYE, From Vienna
London Observer Foreign News Service

INTERESTING report of recent developments in Communist Hungary, some of which are confirmed by news from other sources, have been given by a fugitive railway official who has just reached the British zone of Austria after escaping from Budapest East Railway Station, where he was employed up to a week ago.

COMMON SIGHT

It is quite a common sight, he said, for railway officers on night duty, to see political prisoners being sent off in the direction of Russia. Parties of 20 to 30 persons, handcuffed or chained together, are driven up during the small hours in closed lorries, guarded by political police armed with machine pistols. They are herded into cattle trucks, which are then locked and sealed, and attached to trains bound for the Russian frontier. He himself had seen eight of these transports during the last six weeks. Railwaymen never speak of them even among themselves, since one who was indiscreet enough to remark to a colleague that there seemed to be a shortage of miners in Siberia disappeared next day and has not been heard of again.

The guard of armed party members at the Communist headquarters in Budapest has just been replaced by political police who carry machine pistols and have also heavy machine guns in concealed and fortified strong points. Other signs of nervousness at this headquarters are the expulsion of the inhabitants of a number of neighboring houses and their replacement by police and the installation on the roof of the building of a police searchlight which at night plays on roofs and windows in the neighborhood. It is forbidden to look out by night from any window giving on to the headquarters.

Travelers arriving in Budapest from the Bakony Hills report that several small camps have been established, and the surrounding area has been cordoned off by troops. In each of these camps there are some 100 men and women undergoing training as partisans to work behind an enemy's lines. Among those training them are said to be Red Army partisan experts. From time to time the partisan trainees do parachute jumps at the airport of Papa.

FORBIDDEN ZONES

Well to the south, on the Yugoslav frontier, in the districts of Pec and Nagykanizsa, some 1,500 families have been evacuated and their homes handed over to the military. Further east, on the Romania side of the Yugoslav frontier, a "forbidden zone" has been established 35 kilometres in depth, near Arad and Timisoara.

The area has not been completely evacuated, but several thousand persons have been arrested and sent eastwards. Practically all normal communication between this zone and the rest of Romania has been severed by a military cordon.

Grim Estimate

By WALTER LIPPMANN

JUST before it adjourned last week Parliament had a discussion, in which Mr. Churchill took the leading part, about the strategic situation in Europe. On the facts there was no disagreement between Mr. Churchill and Mr. Shinwell, the minister of defence. Western Europe, he said, has almost no immediate defence if Russia decided to attack except the deterrent effect of American superiority in atomic weapons.

MR. CHURCHILL had asked for a secret session, presumably to discuss the conclusions to be drawn from this estimate of the situation. Mr. Attlee refused to have a secret session and, therefore, Mr. Churchill's views were bound to be stated cryptically. "Between having the secret and making any large number of bombs there is undoubtedly a considerable interval. It is this interval which we must not waste. We must endeavor to make up the melancholy leeway in military preparations which are pressing us today, and we must never abandon the hope that a peaceful settlement may be reached with the Soviet government if a resolute effort is made, not upon our present weakness but upon American atomic strength."

THE British picture of the European situation, as expressed publicly by the minister of defence and by Mr. Churchill, is in broad terms as follows: The Soviet Union has 175 active divisions which in a few months could be raised to over 300 divisions. On the assumption, which in view of the proved fighting capacity of the Chinese and of the North Koreans is optimistic, that only half of the active divisions could be used in Europe, the Russians can still "launch over 80 divisions upon us without any further mobilization."

Of the active divisions one-third are said to be mechanized or armored, which would mean that at least 25 are available in the West. Mr. Churchill made an informed guess that on or near the western front the Russians had 4,000 or 5,000 tanks "in organized formations." Against this he said that the British, the French, the Belgians and the American have a total of 12 divisions, of which less than two are armored, against anything from 25 to 30 on the Russian side.

THE odds against us in ground troops on the western front are, on the British figures, at least 4 to 1 and it may be as much as 9 to 1. The tactical air position is not much better, and at sea, said Mr. Churchill, "it is probably true to say that the Russian U-boat menace to our transoceanic lifeline and world communications, covering all American reinforcements for Europe, would be far more severe than were the German U-boats in 1939 and 1940, and that seemed quite enough then."

Mr. Churchill's estimate is grim, so grim that its effect on the Continent will be profoundly demoralizing unless the United States can convince the people of the Continent (1) that they are prepared to commit all their resources and (2) that they intend to commit them primarily to reinforcing their own deterrent power and (3) that they shall use the deterrent power they have and all that they can add to it, to support a policy which is neither appeasement nor a demand for Russian unconditional surrender, but is a policy of settlement by negotiation on the principle of the co-existence of the Communist orbit and of the Atlantic community.

A MAXIMUM effort to achieve greater military power quickly is imperative. But, on the British estimate of the strategic situation, America's maximum effort will not be enough to achieve the security of the Atlantic community unless it is focused and directed rightly so as to be deterrent, and unless diplomatic objectives are reduced to realizable proportions.

The European picture, as drawn by Mr. Churchill, and the experience in Korea prove conclusively that while we have the power to deter the Soviet Union, we do not have the power to contain all the revolutionary forces around the periphery of the Soviet Union. The Pentagon has always known that. The policy of containment was dreamed up by civilians. A strategy of military containment is, for a country or an alliance that is numerically inferior, nonsense. Thus it may be possible for 80 men to surround and contain 12 men. But 12 men cannot surround and contain 80 men.

THIS truism is being given a fearful demonstration in South Korea, where the Americans have been unable to contain the North Koreans because there have never been enough Americans. The alternative to a strategy of deterrence is the strategy of the deterrent striking force. That does not mean building nothing but B-36's. It does mean the organization and the reinforcement and the continual perfecting of task forces designed to penetrate the defences of the Soviet Union itself. The American power to strike inside the Soviet Union is what now protects Europe, which is otherwise virtually disarmed. That is what must protect Europe while it goes through the painful effort to develop some independent military power of its own against Soviet military action to interrupt European rearmament.

THERE is every reason for thinking that this is substantially the Soviet estimate too. Their propaganda has been concentrated on an effort to neutralize Allied superiority in atomic weapons—on an effort to bring about American atomic disarmament. Their diplomacy has been concentrated on keeping the Atlantic community embroiled in the Far East, fighting second-class satellites in Indo-China, Malaya and Korea. If they could manage both to disarm the United States of the only kind of weapon in which it has decisive superiority, and could at the same time involve America in a first-rate secondary war, they could begin to dictate political terms to the defeated and terrified people of Europe.

A U.S. View

No Storm In Their Teacups

By O. M. GREEN, from London

THERE can be little doubt that the British Minister of Food is secretly as pleased to be free from the burden of finding all the tea that British (and quite a number of foreign) tea-drinkers demand as the London tea trade is that the 10 wearying years of bulk-buying will end on March 31 next year and that London's tea auctions begin again on April 1.

INCREASING COMPETITION During the war, when the British government, on behalf of the Allies, acquired all teas from every available source and allocated them among different countries, the position was fairly simple. But when the inter-Allied control of tea ended and the Calcutta and Colombo auctions were opened, the British government had to meet increasing competition: prices rose, and with them the difficulty of obtaining the required quantity of tea. By the time the government's contracts were completed, the best teas had been snapped up. A year ago Mr. Strachey, then food minister, appeared to have decided to end bulk buying but left it to his successor, Mr. Maurice Webb, whose announcement has inspired bright hopes that London will gradually become once more the central tea market of the world.

But these visions are not wholly without their clouds. To re-establish the auctions after 10 years' lapse is no easy matter. Nobody can say how much tea the brokers will have on hand and in prospect on April 1. There will be for sale the government's secret stocks—possibly not more than two months' supply—and whatever may remain from its still outstanding contracts which run until March 31 next. But this amount can only be a fraction of the 450,000,000 pounds which Great Britain drinks annually, not to mention the tea which she re-exports.

Again, the best Ceylon teas are auctioned in Colombo in February and March. Another auction takes place in June, but of inferior tea. The far larger Indian sales begin at the end of May. But both India and Ceylon have in recent years become tea-conscious; they drink much more tea themselves than before the war, and there is no knowing how much tea they will allow to be sent for auctioning in London.

In pre-war days the keen competition between the markets in London, Calcutta, Colombo, Batavia and Amsterdam—and the quantity of tea available with Java then producing voluminously—tended to keep prices stable all over the world. Now the markets are undersupplied and at least the best teas go to the longest purse.

BUY DIRECT

One point strongly emphasized by London buyers is that they shall be allowed to import tea themselves instead of waiting for the growers to announce from time to time what they have to sell and leaving it for the London brokers to auction. If the manufacturers in Great Britain were allowed to buy direct from the growers and import tea on their own account, it is believed that many difficulties both of price and quality would disappear.

But whatever uncertainties there must be, the satisfaction of the tea trade at the abolition of bulk-buying is great. Mincing Lane, its traditional home, is old, experienced and shrewd; and although its muscles may be a little stiff with disuse, they should soon be as limber as they have ever been in overcoming obstacles.

And Now—Mechanical Elephants

U.K. Information Service

PEOPLE of the small village of Thaxted, Essex, England, can sleep peacefully at night with the knowledge that the "elephant mystery" has been solved. NOCTURNAL APPARITION For weeks a huge nocturnal apparition, which made strange whirring noises, was seen walking through the dark streets of the village. Those who saw it were prepared to swear it was an elephant, easily eight feet high and about 12 long. They were right. Now the secret is out. The monster is the world's first mechanical walking elephant and its midnight strolls were the final tests in preparation for its first public showing the other day.

This robot elephant weighs just over a ton and is driven by an eight-h.p. engine. Its four legs are mounted on independent oil-controlled points which enable it to pick its feet right off the ground and add a terrifying realism to an already amazingly lifelike model.

The inventor, Mr. Frank Stuart, does not intend to restrict himself to robot elephants for this new system of propulsion. He is now working on a prototype of a great amphibious tractor which will be capable of towing unusually heavy loads. Experiments are also being carried out for using the system for agricultural machinery.

The robot elephant gave eight excited children and its driver a comfortable, steady ride at its first demonstration. The driver sits over the elephant's neck where there is a steering tiller and normal car controls. There are four gears and a reverse, and in perfect conditions a speed of more than 20 m.p.h. may be reached. The elephant is said to have a greater tipping angle than a London bus.

OVERSEAS ORDERS Orders for five of these elephants have already been received from the U.S.A., to be completed by the end of September, two for Canada, one for Australia and, bringing coals to Newcastle, one for Africa. Each elephant costs $3,700 to buy and consists of 9,000 parts.

The world's first walking elephant is now carrying children along the promenade at Margate, a coastal resort in the south of England. Mr. Stuart and his small factory of 40 employees are now turning to the job of completing their 1951 elephant which will be able to swim as well as walk.

EMPHATIC STAND

Canadians learn with satisfaction that Mr. Pearson, our Secretary for External Affairs, is taking an emphatic stand at Washington in advocacy of the Niagara Falls treaty.

This country should not be denied the right to use the water that passes over the Niagara cataract and down the St. Lawrence rapids which could be made to develop fifty million dollars of electric energy yearly.

SHOULD Washington decide to reverse the policy of no arms aid to the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa, that would fit a widespread Western belief that Communist China must be restrained from aggressive adventures.

We may hear more relative to that point when W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's new special assistant on foreign affairs, returns from consultation with Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo. Harriman has instructions to discuss the whole Far Eastern political situation with MacArthur.

Mackenzie

Communist China, despite her huge size and population of 500,000,000, has given plenty of evidence she has ambitions for extending her dominion and influence. Moreover, as a hand-and-glove partner of Russia, she is the fulcrum which Moscow may well attempt to use to pry loose other Asiatic countries, one at a time.

Apologies of such possibilities John Osborne, senior correspondent for Life magazine in the Far East, makes pertinent comment. After visiting Manila, Hongkong, Formosa and Tokyo, he reports that the most interesting point of general agreement there is this:

"The Chinese Communists are committed to the conquest, by any necessary means, of all Asia. They are so dedicated, of course, in behalf of and by the will of the Soviet Union. But they also are committed in their own interest. For quite apart from Moscow's direction and material aid, Chinese Communism has a might and a momentum of its own."

MILITARY VALUE

So far as concerns Formosa—last stand of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government—both Moscow and Peking want it. Peking claims it as Chinese territory, and Russia desires control because of its value as a naval and military base.

Should Korea come under control of the Russo-Chinese brotherhood, that big peninsula would, with Formosa, form powerful pincers which could be used against the Japanese islands.

One hot spot, which well typifies the whole Sino-Russian program in Asia, is British-controlled Malaya, one of the world's richest countries. One-third of the globe's natural rubber comes from there, and one-half of the tin.

Moreover, Malaya not only is a great prize economically but militarily. Britain feels that if the Reds could gain control of Malaya they would neutralize Singapore, Britain's naval and air base at the tip of the peninsula.

A salient fact is that of some 6,000,000 persons in Malaya, 2,615,000 are Chinese. A large proportion of them were born in Malaya, but naturally the danger of their being oriented to outside loyalties has increased with the Communization of neighboring China.

The Sino-Russian partnership is taking full advantage of this situation and is working overtime to pull Malaya into the Red fold.

There are numerous other danger spots—notably Indo-China, where major warfare is developing rapidly—a fact which increases the anxiety of the West regarding Peking's intentions.

NO ALTERNATIVE

Ottawa Journal

Higher taxes, to pay our share of the cost of the war in Korea, would be an unpleasant necessity, but better than the alternative which would be acceptance of a world dominated by Communism.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN A. TOBIN

"IT'S human nature," said the Elevator Man, "to like to be the fella who springs the big news. Hospital nurses get a kick out of being the first to announce 'It's a boy.' Even a veteran radio announcer must feel a little excitement when he says, 'Madam, you've just won six washing machines and a gallon of purple paint.' But the fella who really stars is the one who delivers just one word: 'Fire!' That's the jackpot in any league of message carriers. It's the $64 dollar answer. It silences forever the guy who's always asking 'Watta ya know, Joe? Mezzanine!'"

"But strangely enough," said the Elevator Man, "it doesn't always have the expected result. You can imagine the feelings of that man in New York the other day who rushed into the rooms of a chess and checker club and yelled, 'Gentlemen, there's a fire on the roof!' According to the news item nobody looked up. He tried again, 'Gentlemen, there's a fire on the roof!' By this time the firemen were dragging hose through the room. One player roused himself and warned them, 'Don't disturb the board, please!' And the games went on. Lower main!"

"Well," said the Elevator Man, "that must have been plumb discouraging. But a story from Moscow gives a different twist to the theme. Apparently a nighttime knock on the door means only one thing there—the secret police and the big black van. Well, it seems that one midnight a janitor went through an apartment house hanging on each door and calling: 'Don't be alarmed comrades. It's just the building burning down.' Sometimes even bad news can be good."

While most U.S. tourists surprisingly enough have complimented Victoria on its courteous drivers, two from West Lynn, Oregon, today had the opposite to say.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Foster, "Today's Tourists," who said they were distinguished in that they live on Easy Street, noted the drivers in general here come roaring up from behind blaring their horns in an "I'm coming through to heck with you" attitude.

Although the Fosters said they liked Victoria, they had other complaints.

"One thing I can't take is flies and ants in your tourist cabins along the highway," Mrs. Foster said.

THE HOME GARDEN

Annuals Sown In August Bloom Earlier In Spring

By JACK G. BEASTALL

A practice rarely indulged in by the home gardener is the sowing of hardy annuals in August.

They make very strong plants which bloom much earlier in the spring, more abundantly, and for a longer period than spring sowings.

Included in the list are poppies, larkspur, godetia, clarkia, nemophila, eschscholtzia, marigold and calendula. By sowing very thinly in flats, or transplanting the seedlings to boxes, the plants may be sheltered in a frame during severe weather. Hollyhock and delphinium seedlings can be treated in the same way.

REPOT CYCLAMEN

The owner of a small greenhouse also has many jobs to do. Cyclamen should have been repotted, and if this has not been done, it should be one of the first items on the list. Cyclamen seed is sown now for blooming plants by Christmas, 1951.

Freesia bulbs should be shaken free of the old soil, graded to size, and repotted. Lachenalia, the Cape cowslip, is treated in the same manner. Greenhouse primulas, from spring sown seed, are now moved to their flowering size pots.

As the leaves of achimenes start to turn yellow less water is needed. Reduce the amount gradually, and even when the plants are totally dormant the soil should never be allowed to become parched.

NEED WATERING

Plants which have been set outside for the summer need careful attention, especially to their watering requirements. Azaleas, heaths, and other woody plants in pots, are liable to severe injury if the soil is allowed to become dry, and this can soon happen with steady sunshine and strong winds.

August is the month to repair the greenhouse, check the heating system, and give the whole place a general scrubbing. Time spent cleaning up now is more than repaid by the decrease of pests and disease during the winter.

By-Elections May Be Announced

OTTAWA (CP)—Some observers here say that following today's cabinet meeting Prime Minister St. Laurent may announce the appointment of a successor to Labor Minister Mitchell, who died last Tuesday. This might be accompanied by an announcement of dates for by-elections to fill three Commons vacancies before the new session, expected to be called for late September or early October.

Prime Minister St. Laurent has invited all members of his cabinet to attend Monday's meeting. It is believed that a majority of the cabinet has already approved the principle of sending troops to Korea, but Mr. St. Laurent is anxious to have as full support as possible.

Passenger Train Rams Freight Cars On Switch

Brakeman's Mistake At Huntington, N.Y., Sends Three To Hospital; 52 Have Bruises

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP)—Three persons were taken to hospital and 52 others were treated for bruises and shock after a Long Island railroad passenger train had knifed through a switch into a siding Saturday and rammed a parked freight train.

WAR ANNIVERSARY

Hiroshima Marks Fifth A-Bomb Day

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—Hiroshima, with special religious services, Sunday marked the fifth anniversary of its atom-bomb blasting.

The commemoration was not called a "peace festival" as in past years.

City authorities said they had learned in advance that Japanese Communists were planning to link the peace festival idea with the Communists' Stockholm peace campaign. The officials decided to call Sunday's ceremonies simply memorials.

Fire On Freighter At Saint John, N.B.

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—Fire broke out aboard the 7,000-ton Swedish freighter Mirafjord as she lay in dock here Saturday, causing heavy damage to the vessel's boiler room.

Firemen fought for hours to prevent the blaze from spreading to boilers or oil tanks, recently refuelled with 400 tons of oil. The ship's main hold was free of cargo at the time and no injuries were reported.

Police said a brakeman, Robert Colgan, 22, admitted opening a main-line switch which sent the passenger train into the freight after he had mistook the conductor's wave as a signal to reverse the switch.

District Attorney Lindsay R. Henry said Colgan would not be held. Lindsay called the accident a "horrible mistake" by Colgan that was not intentional. The passenger train's steam engine left the tracks and turned over after smashing into the freight train, but the six cars carrying an estimated 200 passengers from New York City remained upright.

Reports of the accident sent thousands of persons to the scene, recalling the Long Island wreck last Feb. 17 at Rockville Centre, when 32 died and more than 100 were injured.

Brig.-Gen. Wilson, Ex-Governor, Dies

LONDON (Reuter)—Brig.-Gen. Sir Samuel Herbert Wilson, formerly one of Britain's foremost colonial administrators, died in London Saturday, it was announced Sunday. He was 76.

After serving in the army from 1893 until after the First World War, he became Governor of Trinidad in 1921 and Governor of Jamaica in 1924. In 1925 he was appointed permanent Undersecretary of State for the colonies, a position he held until 1933.

May Arrest Bishops

VIENNA (AP)—The newspaper Wiener Zeitung said Sunday that Hungarian Communist pressure is increasing against the aides and deputies of the imprisoned Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, and arrest of several bishops is feared in Roman Catholic circles.

BIBLE DOES NOT CONDEMN RICHES

Pope Pius Outlines Importance, Responsibility Of World Banking

His Holiness Pope Pius XII made two recent pronouncements of interest to bankers—and not less, of course, to people generally. First, on April 27, 1950, receiving a group of directors, employees and workmen of the Rome offices of the Bank of Italy, he spoke of the importance of their viewing their work "not in a purely materialistic way, but in terms of its true dignity and its profound worth." Here are some important excerpts from the authorized English version of His Holiness' address:

"Work must provide a man and his family with an adequate amount of daily bread. This is not something extrinsic to the conception of work but its intrinsic purpose according to the divine plan. . . . Work must serve the common good and give proof of each man's sense of responsibility for the good of all

"Who could overlook this consideration in an organization such as the Bank of Italy. Conscientiousness, honesty, accuracy; these characteristics of any work well done are all the more inseparable from work understood as serving God and, in this way, they bear fruit for the well-being of the community

"Do not be surprised if we lay stress on the social aspect of your profession. It is an aspect which must lead you to esteem your profession, love it, and exercise it with diligence and conscientiousness."

ONLY ONE MASTER

"In the Holy Gospel, the Divine Master does not condemn riches justly acquired. He praises or reproves a man's conduct towards them in the measure in which it is honest or wicked. Woe to the man who makes himself their slave, for no man can serve two masters. (Luke 16, 13). Woe to the man who, deluded by them, chokes in his heart the seed of the Divine word. (Matt. 13, 22). Woe to the man who trusts in them without taking stock of what he owes God. (Luke 12, 20). Woe to the rich and evil man who lives for enjoyment only, without throwing a glance of pity upon poor Lazarus who lies before his door full of sores. (Luke 16, 19). Yes, woe to all these, but praise and reward to the good and faithful servant who has used his talents to profit, and blame and chastisement to the slothful servant who has hidden his lord's money in the ground instead of placing it with the bankers and obtaining interest on it. (Matt. 25, 20-30).

"Is it not the social function of the bank to put a man in a position where he can loan out his capital with interest, even if this capital is small, instead of wasting it or letting it lie without profit either to himself or other people?"

Seattle Flier Killed

SEATTLE (AP)—A well-known Seattle dentist, Dr. Glenn Borgendale, was killed Saturday when his light rented plane crashed on the lawn of a waterfront Lake Washington home.

"There are, consequently, many services the bank can give; facilitating and encouraging savings, keeping them for the future but making them profitable for the present; allowing participation in useful undertaking which could not be embarked upon without its help; easing the adjustment of accounts, exchange and business between private individuals and between states—in a word, a nation's entire economic life; establishing a sort of safety cushion to help prevent ruin in critical periods.

"These are only some of many examples, but are they not sufficient to provide a strong impulse both for directors who shoulder the heavy responsibility of making decisions especially in times of crisis and for employees whose work demands minute and undistracted attention?"

CHRISTIAN SPIRIT

Again, on June 19, addressing the employees of the Bank of Rome, His Holiness was quoted in the Associated Press dispatches as follows:

VATICAN CITY, June 19 (AP)—Describing banks as "hearts of economic structures," Pope Pius urged world bankers to act with "true Christian spirit."

The Pontiff addressed 1,200 employees of the Bank of Rome yesterday, defending banks and bankers.

It is not true, the Pope said, that the banking system "is one that by its nature is tainted with fault."

Nor is it true, he told his listeners, that their profession "inevitably puts you in danger of contaminating your hearts, as if it were especially difficult for you to free your souls from attachment to ephemeral and false goods."

Both humble workers in banks and financiers, the Pope said, can work in the true spirit of the Gospel, with hearts removed from the money they manage and the material goods they administer.

The function of banking, the Pope said, "is a high one, and of great importance."

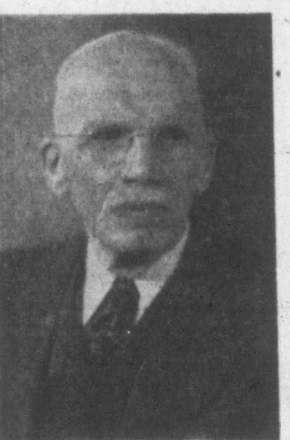

"If money has been called—and rightly—the blood of the economic body, then well may we conclude that the banks are like the heart, that must regulate the circulation for the greater benefit of individuals, families and social groups that together form the national economic body. Here is the power, the utility and the responsibility of the banking system."

The Pontiff said that this responsibility and power were not free of the dangers of risks and abuses, "as events too frequently show."

But especially for that reason, he said, it is the duty of the church and of the faithful to imbue "in the system and in the men themselves of the banking world" the genuine Christian spirit.

INSPECTION NEEDED NO MUSICAL AID

LONDON (Reuter)—The last notes of the general salute had just died away and the Field Marshal's inspection begun when some unscheduled music began.

Field Marshal Lord Wilson was inspecting army cadets at a camp near Sunderland when an officer dashed from his party and to the rear of some nearby huts.

A band there was playing "If I Knew You Were Coming I'd Have Baked a Cake."

They didn't. Nor did they play on.

Meteor Crater In Quebec Said

TORONTO (CP)—The Globe and Mail, in a world copyright story, says today a meteorite crater, far greater than any yet known, has been discovered in northern Quebec, near Hudson Strait.

It was discovered, says the newspaper, by an expedition organized by the Royal Ontario Museum of Geology and Mineralogy, headed by Dr. V. Ben Meen, director of the museum. Dr. Meen was not available for comment.

Ken W. MacTaggart, Globe and Mail staff writer, accompanied the expedition and in his account says the crater is four to five times larger than one in Arizona, which is about 4,000 feet in diameter and which was the largest previously known. Dr. Meen estimated the meteor-struck Quebec's Ungava barren lands 3,000 to 5,000 years ago, and that it smashed into the earth with an explosive power sufficient to wipe out New York or London.

UNCLE RAY

The white youth, John Hunter, was made to feel at home while he was in the Osage village. The squaw who had asked to adopt him made presents for him, with the help of her daughter. Among the presents, were leggings, moccasins, a buffalo robe and a beaver hat.

Having lost his foster mother in the Kansas tribe and his good friend, Chief Shut-she-naw, John felt less regret about giving up his old tribe and taking on another. He agreed to be adopted by an Osage squaw.

His new little sister proved to be a good friend. Often she went with him on errands, including the gathering of firewood in the forest. She asked him about his parents, but he could tell her little.

When he was about 17 years old, John joined a group of Osage hunters. A long journey westward was made to the "Mountains of the Snow," as the Rockies were called.

Hunter and his comrades wondered whether they might dare to go up the steep slopes of those mountains. After talking over the question, they decided to make the attempt.

Upward they climbed, and day followed day as they struggled to make the crossing. From time to time they shot a mountain goat, a black-tailed deer or a pheasant. One day several men were standing together when two big bears rushed on them. Firing their guns, they shot both of the bears, but one was only wounded. With a fearful growling noise, the wounded bear lunged against one of the warriors and threw him to the ground, biting and clawing him. The other warriors drove their long knives into the bear's body, and struck him with their tomahawks. At last the beast was killed. The warrior who had been knocked over was badly mangled, but he was given the best care the Indians knew, and slowly recovered.

Again the party struggled forward and reached the valley of the Columbia River. Going down the valley, they reached the shore of the Pacific Ocean. With a feeling of wonder, they looked at the rolling waters and listened to the roar of the waves which beat on the shore.

Outside, they sat on boxes or sprawled on blankets on the sidewalk after police had closed

87,000 'Witnesses' Gather At Stadium In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Yankee Stadium was like a giant camp meeting ground today as more than 87,000 persons filled it to the top tiers and spread onto the field to usher in the week-long convention of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Twenty-five thousand more people, according to officials of the religious group, crowded around the Bronx Stadium to hear the proceedings.

The public was invited and there were no figures to show how many Witnesses and how many guests attended.

Three stadium entrances because the park was packed full.

Few stadium events—baseball, football or championship fights—ever had drawn such crowds.

Delegates from all over the world heard Nathan H. Knorr, president of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, governing body of Jehovah's Witnesses, give an affirmative answer to the question: "Can you live forever in happiness on earth?"

They were assured they and the rest of the 144,000 Witnesses would triumph over what Knorr called "mere imitation Christians."

Small Money Boys Showing Way In Tam O'Shanter Golf Scramble

CHICAGO (AP)—The $15,000 All-American tourney, supposed to be a proving ground for golf's sharpest gold-diggers, today shaped up as a poor man's outing as it plodded into the third round.

The three top half-way shooters, led by Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., with a three-under-par 14, owned a combined paltry 1950 golf bankroll of roughly $7,000. That includes a year's take of $3,518 by Douglas, $3,313 by runner-up Ed Furgol, the gallant crooked-arm player from Royal Oak, Mich., who has 142; and $377 earned by third-spot Skeet Riegel of Tulsa, Okla., riding two strokes off Douglas' pace with 143.

This trio faces such prodigious money-grabbers as Sam Snead, leading the professional dollar list with $26,223; Jim Frier, runner-up with $16,246; Jimmy Demaret, who had banked $14,676; Lloyd Mangrum, defending All-American champion, with $12,855 earnings; and Bobby Locke, British Open champion. Snead is in the best position to head off the dark-horse threesome. Sambo is notched at even par 144 with three others, Fred Hawkins, Herman Keiser, Skip Alexander.

'Y' TRACKSTERS STEAL SHOW

Parnell Realizes Ambition With Record Performance In Mile Run

Eleven members of Bruce Humber's Y.M.C.A. track and field team had the biggest day in the history of the club, Saturday, when they stole the show at the men's open B.C. championships at U.B.C. Stadium.

They won the meet aggregate by one point over the Vancouver Olympic Club, took seven of the men's B.C. titles, broke a Canadian record, posted a new B.C. juvenile jump mark and collected 11 firsts and two third places.

Bill Parnell set a new Canadian mile record of 4:14.8 and won the half-mile to boot in the fast time of 1:55.4. In both races he was chased to the tape by Owis' Club's Jack Hutchins.

DUKE DOUBLE WINNER

Rafael Duke also scored a double victory. He won the 100 yard dash in 10.4 seconds against a strong head wind and went on to take the 220 in 23.2 seconds. Team captain Harry Mitchell was second in both events, with Gordie Pynn taking third slot in the century.

Bob Hutchinson defeated Empire Games runner Ez Henniger for the second time in two weeks, in the quarter-mile lap. He negotiated the distance in 51.2 seconds.

Gordie Pynn was another B.C. championship winner. He took the broad jump with a leap of 21 feet 6 inches.

Pynn then teamed up with Duke, Mitchell and Hutchins to win the B.C. 440 yard relay title for the fourth successive year, in the time of 44.5 seconds.

In the juvenile event, Garry Pynn won the broad jump and set a new provincial record of 20 feet 1 1/2 inches, a foot better than the old mark.

A 440-yard relay team, composed of Pynn, Ted Whan, Jim Kennett and Walter Young won the event in 47 seconds flat which is being investigated as a new record.

Young won the century dash in 10.9 seconds and Whan finished third in the quarter-mile.

Down Josephs won the "Y's" only woman's event by leaping five feet in the high jump. Team-mate Pat Fleming finished third.

Margaret Lightfoot pulled a mild upset in the broad jump by defeating Miss Josephs at her specialty by a half-inch with a leap of 17 feet 4 inches.

When Parnell set his new Canadian native mark, which is almost three seconds faster than Art Clark's old standard of 4:17.6, an ambition of almost a year was realized.

SPRINTS TO TAKE
Bill ran his race just as planned. Coach Humber had asked for a 4.15 mile and told him to run the first two laps in 2:06. Like clockwork, Bill's big legs windmilled around the track as the watch ticked off the seconds. At the half he was right on schedule. Near the finish the tall North Vancouver blond sprinted away from Empire Games teammate Jack Hutchins and broke the tape just two-tenths of a second ahead of the allotted time and 20 yards ahead of Hutchins.

It was not Bill's ambition, however. It was his coach's, Bruce Humber. For almost a year Humber had been trying to get Parnell to run a mile in Canada faster than any other Canadian ever had before.

Giants New Threat In National Race

Look out! The Giants are coming!

While Philadelphia, Boston, Brooklyn and St. Louis have been battling to take a commanding lead in the National League pennant scrap, manager Leo Durocher's New York Giants have been moving up unobtrusively on the outside.

The Giants have won 15 of their last 16 games. Only a 6 to 3 defeat by the Cards July 30, which interrupted a nine-game winning streak, mars the surge.

Durocher's Giants began their hot pace July 20 in sixth place, 11 games out of sight. Today they are fifth, eight games out of the lead but only 3 1/2 games from the first division.

Yesterday the Giants reached the peak of their current drive as Larry Jansen and Sal Maglie turned back Pittsburgh Pirates 5 to 0 and 3 to 0.

Jansen gave up five hits for his 13th victory and fourth shut-out. Meanwhile, the Cardinals tightened up the race by taking a double-header from the Phils 7 to 1 and 2 to 0.

MUSIAL HOMERS

Rookie Claude Boyer pitched a strong four-hitter to win the opener, his third straight victory. Andy Seminick homered for the lone Phil run. The Cards rocked Bob Miller and Milo Candini for 15 hits with Red Schoendienst showing the way with five for five. Stan Musial contributed a two-run homer to the onslaught.

Veteran left-hander Max Lanier tamed the Phils on six hits in the finale while the Cards collected only three off Bubba Church.

The second-place Boston Braves advanced to within three games of the Phils by dividing with Chicago Cubs. Johnny Sain pitched the Braves to a 5-to-2 decision in the opener, his 16th victory of the year, top output in the National League. Cubs took the nightcap 9 to 1 behind the six-hit pitching of Frank Hiller.

Dizzy Trout pitched the American League's front-running Detroit Tigers to a 4-to-0 seven-hit victory over Washington Senators. The conquest boosted the Bengals' margin to three games over New York Yankees who regained second place from Cleveland by beating the Indians 9 to 0 on Tommy Byrne's three-hitter.

Trout's eighth victory was gained at Gene Bearden's expense. Bearden, making his first start since arriving from Cleveland, granted eight hits but four walks and a wild pitch cost him the game.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER

Follow coach Arnold Ferguson and his Shamrocks around and you keep hearing the remark: "You've done a wonderful job, Fergie. Keep it up." It was about five months ago that the Inter-city League commission hummed and hawed about accepting the Shamrocks in the league, but needing new blood, they granted Victoria a franchise. Then there was the now famous crack made by Jack Wood, Salmonbellies coach, at the opening game of the season here: "We are glad to be in Victoria and we hope to show you how lacrosse should be played." The result—a Salmonbellies defeat. And so it has gone all season.

Every Game Is Different

Everyone said the Rocks were lucky and would soon be in the cellar once the mainland teams got in shape. Not so. The Irish are practically in the playoffs. Only a miracle can keep them out. And believe it or not, they are now the team feared most by mainland clubs. This may be loose talk in an attempt to inflate the Irish to a point they will become over-confident. But then again it may not be. The locals can't help but learn more every time out and with the best team spirit in the league could be an awfully tough club to beat.

Ferguson is not particularly worried as to where the club finishes, just so long as they hit the post-season play. "Anything can happen in a lacrosse game" is Ferguson's philosophy. "Every game is different. You lose the games you should have won and you win the ones you should have lost."

About This Rookie Business

During an intermission in the Salmonbellies-Shamrocks game the other night the talk got around to the "Rookie of the Year" award. Being a visitor I was asked my opinion. But the question was worded: "Who do you like for the award, Marion Cervi or Ed Bell?" Both are on the Indians. My immediate reaction was that the Shamrocks were being overlooked, and taking the bull by the horns, I replied: "What, no Shamrocks. There's more potential on the Victoria team than the rest of the clubs put together."

Certainly Bell and Cervi are fine players and they've helped to put the Indians on top of the league. But seeing the Shamrocks more than any other club maybe I'm prejudiced in thinking the honor belongs here in Victoria. On the same basis Vancouver observers would be in favor of Vancouver players who they see more often than the Rocks.

They Can't Be Overlooked

However, if you look at the league scoring records, and that's a fair basis for comparison, you will find neither Cervi or Bell are anywhere near the top or even close to some of the Shamrocks eligibles. Norm Coates has 60 points, Edwin Popham 55 and Fred Ranson 53. Also you can't overlook Art Green or Bob Monaghan, or for that matter Bill Andrews. Green is the workhorse. Monaghan has been described by more than one authority as the best prospect on the club. Andrews is the second-best goalkeeper in the league in shots stopped, ranking only behind Stan Joseph. If Cervi or Bell, or for that matter any other mainland rookie, can top these performances or merit selection on better general all-round play, then I have yet to see them.

When business manager Reg Patterson of the Athletics made the crack some time ago that if things with the Athletics got too bad he would take to the hills, it sounded like so much talk. Saturday morning following the A's double defeat by Salem a phone call to Patterson's home failed to find anyone home. Has anybody out Sookie way seen Patterson?

Eagles Ball Club New Holders Of Hart Trophy

Hart Cup, emblematic of inter-city baseball supremacy between Victoria and Port Angeles, is back in the city for the first time since 1946. Saturday at Athletic Park the Eagles took two games from the Ports 16 to 4 and 8 to 7 to take the series in straight games. Eagles won the opening clash at Port Angeles 8 to 4.

Afternoon game proved a run-away with the Eagles putting on an eight-run rally in the seventh inning. One of the highlights was Doug Peden's three-run homer in the third. Southpaw Don McKinnon was the winning hurler.

Night affair saw the Eagles

Cowichan, Incogs Score Victories In Cricket Play

Cowichan, holding second place in the cricket league standings, put on an impressive show Saturday to defeat Oak Bay by six wickets.

After the Bays had put on 111 runs, featured by Dick Gault's 66 not out the mid-island squad came back to score 199 with only four wickets down. Lou Happenstall and Howarth proved a strong opening partnership the former scoring 49 runs and Howarth 32.

In a second match Albions defeated Incogs 70 to 64. Reg Wenman, Incogs, and Bill Stanley, Albions, shared batting honors, each with 21 runs.

He's Coming Back

That possessive look on Dutch Harrison's face can be taken as an indication that the big fellow from Arkansas is going to put up a stiff fight in defence of the Seagrass Gold Cup and the Canadian Open golf championship he won at Toronto last year. Dutch says he's definitely an entry in this year's open at Montreal this month.

Lorne Main Ends 27-Year Drought

Vancouver's Lorne Main, Saturday, brought the British Columbia men's lawn tennis singles championship back to the province for the first time in 27 years.

The 20-year-old Davis Cupper became the first Canadian to win the honor and the beautiful Challoner and Mitchell Trophy since L. K. Verley turned the trick in 1923 by routing big Ed Kauder of Los Angeles in straight sets, 6-2, 7-5, 6-1.

Main simply made fewer mistakes in the final match as Kauder more or less admitted defeat after losing the second set.

Kauder, who had bowed to Main in the Western Canada championships at Vancouver the previous week, was disappointing to the large gallery at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club.

KAUDER FADES

After dropping the first set, he had the Vancouver star at set-point four times in the second set, but couldn't break through. Main rallied to take what proved to be the all-important game and the turning point in the match at 5 to 5. He ran out the next two games to capture the set and from there on was easily the master as Kauder wilted badly before the pin-point accuracy of the youthful mainlander.

Main lost a chance to become a double victor when he and Billy Green, also of Vancouver, went down to a straight-set defeat at the hands of George Manet and Jim Herd of Santa Barbara in the men's doubles final, 6-4, 8-6, 8-6.

TRIPLE CHAMPION

Anita Kanter of Santa Monica became a triple winner by capturing the women's open singles, the junior singles title and the women's doubles crown.

Miss Kanter defeated western Canada champion Mrs. Nancy Miller of San Mateo in straight sets in the women's final, 6-2, 6-4. She then downed Janet Hopps of Oakland, 6-4, 6-0, in the junior final. Partnered with Miss Hopps, the Santa Monica youngster, who shows promise of becoming a ranking player of the future, took the doubles championship from the favored Mrs. Miller and Arvilla McGuire of Piedmont, California, in a well-played match, 6-3, 8-6.

TWO TITLES

Herd won his second doubles honor when he and Miss McGuire defeated Mrs. Miller and Peter Becroft of New Zealand, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3, in the mixed doubles final.

Mel Dranga of Seattle won the men's veterans' singles from Victoria's Carl Brand in a close-fought match, 6-4, 6-3. Jack Parker and Jack Butt of the city took the veterans' doubles.

The junior men's singles went to Jim Read of Santa Monica with a 6-4, 6-2 victory over Peter Carter of Portland.

Carter and Read teamed up to annex the junior doubles title.

TRAP SHOTS COMMENCE

A's Again Come Close; Meet Tri-City Tonight

Three doubleheaders in three days proved too much for the Athletics, the club dropping its second twin bill of the series to Salem Senators at Salem Sunday, 4 to 3 and 4 to 3.

Needless to say the double one-run defeat added to the club's total for the season, the number of games lost by that narrow margin now being 28.

On Saturday the team had shown signs of coming to life when they scored a double shut-out over the Senators when Jim Hedgecock and Ron Smith marked up 3-to-0 and 6-to-0 triumphs.

But Sunday the A's were back in their accustomed groove and Aldon Willsie and John Marshall were the victims.

SALEM RALLIES TWICE

In the nine-inning opener, the A's jumped on Ray McNulty for three runs in the third inning to chase the ex-Portland hurler from the hill. John Burak came in to gain credit for the win as he blanked the A's over the last six innings.

Salem came from behind a 3-to-2 deficit, scoring two runs in the fifth inning to take the decision.

In the second game, a seven-inning affair, the A's once more scored all their runs in the third inning, this time taking a 3-to-0 lead. Bob Cherry hit a home run with two to go to knot the score in the fifth and Bill Beard singled home Wally Scott from second

Sherwin Leader In Rifle Shoot

Weekly rifle shoot at Heals Range Saturday saw Ted Sherwin head the list. The 75th Regiment member posted a score of 48-45-93 firing from the 200 and 600 yard ranges.

Teammates Sid Rabey and Fred Billock tied for second, each with a score of 91.

Ted Bailey Captures Thrilling Shoot-Off

Highlighted by a three-time shoot-off which saw Victoria's Ted Bailey capture the all-bore open title the annual British Columbia skeet championships were completed today at the Victoria Gun Club. Events were marked by keen competition between provincial stars and crack shots from Washington.

Bailey and the Cooper brothers of New Westminster, Willard and Frank, finished in a three-way tie for first, each with a score of 97 out of a 100. In the first shoot-off they were still deadlocked with 24 and 25. The second saw Bailey and Frank run 25 straight while Willard dropped out with his 24. In the third attempt Bailey ran another 25 straight while Frank took runner-up with a 24. H. Livingston, Washington, was high non-resident gun with 98x100.

Members of the Elks Gun Club, New Westminster, took the five-man team championship with 473x500. Victoria Gun Club squad was second with 459. The winning team included W. and F. Cooper, J. Robertson, L. Parker and H. Merrill.

U.S. TEAM WINS
The five-man international team shoot went to the U.S. shooters with 117x125. B.C. squad was second with 108. Winning team members were Bob Kellar, Harry Livingstone, Doug Bedford, Art Weaver and Lew Simonson.

Art Weaver defeated Ernie Todd, Victoria, in a shoot-off for the skeet and trap all-bore high gun open to win the E. D. Todd trophy. They tied with 95x100 with Weaver posting 49x50 to win the shoot-off.

Willard Cooper took the high overall open with 143. His brother Frank was runner-up with 142.

Doug Bedford, Washington, was high non-resident with 141. The women's open championship was won by Mrs. L. Hockwait, Washington, with 92x100.

Forgotten Men Of Theatre Work Hard

Often overlooked by appreciative audience at successful stage show are those who work behind scenes. Job of setting up special light and sound equipment for "Sweethearts" at arena was long one.

Power Commission Plans Improved Service For Customers On Island

B.C. Power Commission plans improvements in transmission and distribution of power for its Vancouver Island customers.

Details of surveys made last year in preparation for the work are given in the commission's annual report for the year ended March 31 released today.

Preliminary surveys and engineering studies have been made covering a transmission line from Duncan to Cowichan Lake. Surveys were completed also for distribution projects to serve the Ucluelet-Tofino area and Alert Bay. Construction for both projects has been authorized.

Commission engineers made surveys for a number of extensions in power supply. Among the larger projects proposed for which the initial work has been done, cover Gabriola and Quadra Islands.

Improvements and reconstruction where necessary of recently acquired distribution systems at Ladysmith and Cowichan Lake were studied and work will be undertaken this year.

Customer appliance surveys and complete engineering studies were made covering a rather intricate problem of converting the Comox Valley area from 25-cycle to 60-cycle power. Work on this project will be started this year and the commission feels a sound scheme has been developed resulting in the minimum inconvenience possible to customers.

Car Crashes As Mother Saves Son

Reaching into the rear seat to stop her three-year-old son from falling out of her car, Mrs. Masie Pitts, 3700 Carey Street, collided Sunday afternoon with a stop sign at the corner of Cormorant and Quadra Streets and crashed into a house.

No one was injured in the car which carried two other children as passengers. Damage to the car is estimated at $125. Mrs. Pitts was driving south on Quadra Street and turning west on Cormorant Street when she noticed the rear left door of the car was opening. Her son, Todd, was leaning towards the door. She was forced to let go of the wheel to stop him from falling out.

14-Year-Old Scottie Wins Slow Walking Race Prize

The slow-walking race was won by a 14-year-old Scottie, Heather-belle Princess, who ambled along beside her master, H. Mellish. In the puppy race for three to six-month-olds, the young dogs ran excitedly after their owners and the problem of judging was overcome by declaring

City Probe Ordered At Tyee Road Camp

Diggon Orders Police Assistance If Needed To Make Investigation

A complete, up-to-the-minute investigation of Tyee Road Camp by the city lands and welfare departments, who were authorized to obtain police assistance if necessary, was ordered today by Acting Mayor Harold M. Diggon.

The order came on the heels of a delegation who presented a petition protesting a recent recommendation of the city's welfare committee that the camp be improved and expanded.

"I want a thorough investigation as to who are in those camps, if they have a right to be, if they are working or not," said Ald. Diggon.

"I have been advised that one or two huts are being used for a purpose, which if true, is not to the credit of the city and must be investigated."

He said some tenants were "many hundreds of dollars in arrears," at the camp which is operated by the city's social assistance branch. Rentals have been based on ability to pay.

There will be a complete survey," Ald. Diggon said. "We want to see if we can do something to eliminate the situation that has arisen, or maintain the camp, even if it means spending money."

"We do not want it to deteriorate," as it has already started to do, into a slum area."

Reginald Clarke, 202 Edward Street, was spokesman for 33 residents who presented a petition to the acting mayor this morning deploring recent council action on the matter of Tyee.

Ratepayers in the meantime were invited to attend an emergency meeting of Victoria West Community Centre on Catherine Street, Friday night to protest the action recommended by City Council's welfare committee recently, for expansion of the camp.

WANT CAMP CLOSED

"We want the camp closed up entirely, not added to," said Ald. Charles F. Banfield today.

The unofficial "mayor of Victoria West" for many years said ratepayers interested in the welfare of the area felt presence of the camp was not to the district's advantage. Ralph Moore, president of the Community Centre, called the emergency meeting, he said.

"I suggested the welfare committee be invited to attend and talk things over with the residents of the area," Ald. Banfield said.

War Steps Up Sale Of Autos

Used cars prices in Victoria continue to remain firm, with only one dealer of eight contacted reporting any sign of an increase—and that was said to be slight.

Another dealer said the run on new cars had resulted in many more used cars being on the market, and suggested this even might cause prices to go down. "Prices in the East, however, were reported to be increasing."

With some U.S. factories partially engaged in war production, persons who were considering buying a new car made up their minds right away, with the result that there has been a continuous streak of buying activity for the past month.

"We are gradually being cleaned out and are delivering to capacity," said the sales manager of one of the city's largest automobile organizations.

Workman's Death In Colwood Mill Accident, Finds Coroner's Jury

Neils Alfred Peterson, 52-year-old foreman and maintenance man at Colwood Timber Mills Ltd., Atree Road, killed when struck by a rolling log last Thursday, died by accidental means, a coroner's jury found today.

According to evidence by Jaswant Singh Dodd and Arthur Smith, employees of the mill, Peterson at the time of the accident was directing to the mill logs which had been unloaded from a truck.

The logs were unloaded on to the log-deck from the truck. One log already had been removed from the log deck and, according to Smith, the vibration probably caused the loosening of the second log, which rolled down and caught Peterson in the back.

YELLED WARNING
Both Smith and Dodd said they yelled to the deceased but, although apparently hearing them, he did not have time to move out of the way.

Harold Peterson, son of the deceased and a co-worker at the mill, was of the opinion his father did not hear the shouts of Smith and Dodd. He said the saw was in operation, making considerable noise.

Two Victorians In Action In Korean War

Victoria twins are probably the first city men to see action in the Korean War. They are Douglas and Donald McAlpine, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McAlpine, 2536 Vancouver Street.

Both boys are well known here, having been educated at Quadra and Victoria High Schools. Both played here in various bands. They are with the famous 1st Cavalry Division and are members of the band. In letters home, however, they said they are playing little music. The instruments they are using now are guns and the music they play is to the tune of bullets.

Letters home could not disclose much information because of security purposes, but they reported that they left Japan about the middle of July. "I cannot tell you where we are except that we are in Korea and don't know how long it will be before this situation is cleaned up. We are working harder than ever now. We have put aside our instruments and music," Douglas wrote to his mother.

FOREST FIRE HAZARD DOWN

Rain, cool and cloudy weather throughout the Vancouver forest district cut the fire hazard to low to moderate. There were six fires in the area.

There were 34 fires in other sections of the province and most of them were being mopped up in low hazard conditions.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Earthenware Ideal Gift For Family's Newcomer

By PENNY SAVER

So there's a new bambino in the family or possibly a little bundle of joy in the house next door! Well, whatever the case, it means baby gifts in the offing. For baby showers or as independent personal gifts for the new arrival, the question of what to buy, that will be practical yet not impersonal always poses a bit of a problem. Most youngsters receive enough rattles, rubber ball and knick-knacks to last them to their 25th birthday! Being practical myself, I think you can't go wrong when you purchase a set or individual pieces of chinaware. The Royal Doulton Bunnykins ware I looked at this morning is the answer.

In open stock this delightful ware depicts wee bunnies prancing merrily about in play, marching to tunes of a band, and sitting sedately at their dinner table, as well as any number of activities that such bunnies perform. Prices are suited to most pocketbooks too. For a five-inch plate, 50 pennies; oatmeal dish, 65 cents; double-handled mug... makes picking it up easier for the tiny baby learning the ropes... 95 cents; single-handled mug, 90 cents; teapot... that can be used for cocoa and specially nice for children's parties, $2.60; pint milk jugs, $1.75 and porridge dishes 90 cents.

If you present any one of the above pieces as your offering to the new addition to the family, either you or the parents of the baby can continue to add to the set from time to time. If you decide to look at this ware, you'll find a number of other patterns such as the Quack, Quack ware, also available in open stock.

Summer days find a good many of us... who ordinarily venture no closer to the garden other than to admire it... digging about just for the sheer joy of it. Course those little pinkies not being used to the rigors of mother earth take a beating. That is where one of these new stiff nail brushes from England will do the trick. Three inches long, the brush features not only four rows of stiff bristles but also a single row of bristles just for your nails, on top of the plastic handle. Colors in cream, red, green or yellow, and complete with plastic case the set is $1. A smaller two-inch size, 69 cents.

Feel like splurging, anyone? Beat a path to town then to view the new French soap. They tell me that particular brand of soap has been off the market for years. For three cakes of lavender, the same price and ily of the valley, $2.75. Couldn't be posher if you lived in Paris!

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYERS ELDRED

Both fathers and mothers may be guilty of treating a child as if it were their possession. They forget that while their responsibility is to be protective and to give the child love and guidance, that children are entitled to their rights as individuals. They are not bound to the parents as if they were slaves.

Here is a father who refuses his child any freedom to make or keep friends. "My husband is dogmatic and possessive," writes Mrs. E.P. "My child, nearly five, has no playmates because my husband chases them out of the yard. No one suits him. The boys are no good as companions, he says, and the girls are too old.

"He refuses to let our child share any of her toys with playmates and so the children ostracize her. Then he tells her they do not like her.

"He is so possessive that the child thinks she must ask permission even if she leaves the yard with me. When I talk to him he gets very angry and says I am not a good mother. The girl is well-developed for her age, and obviously well-fed and cared for. What shall I do?"

I would try to interest your husband in some authoritative books on child care. He might accept their advice when he wouldn't take yours.

He should know that children learn to get along with other children by the experiences they get in play. It is cruel of him to give the child the idea that she isn't liked. Every human being needs the strength and happiness he gets from knowing that he is liked and your child could become ingrown and queer if she felt that she were repudiated as an individual. No father has a right to do this to his child.

It is very probable that he himself is not a socially-inclined person. He may have few friends and be a yesman in business, so that he has to express himself at home by being a tyrant who makes everyone step around to his bidding.

He should be made to understand that his rights as a father do not reach the limits he has assumed, of depriving the child of the companionship of children her own age, of both sexes, and of making her a toy for his amusement or dominance.

It is lucky for the child that she is of nearly school age when she will be thrust into the company of children and be certain, even without his permission, to get some play experiences with them.

Our leaflet No. 78 on "Help To Be Had From Books," and No. 86 on "How To Be a Good Parent" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request for them to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix: My mother is a bad woman. She runs around with men and my father is nearly dead from worry over her conduct. Everyone looks down on my sister and me and thinks we are no good because our mother is leading a loose life. Should I go on through many years like this, or marry the boy I am going with? I am 18 and have no happiness at home.—LONELY.

Answer: Social workers tell us that nothing so utterly demoralizes children as for their mother to go wrong. It takes away their every prop and stay and wrecks their faith in all that is good and pure and, in the great majority of cases, sends the children to the bad themselves.

Eighteen is very young for you to marry, but if your boy friend is able to take care of you and if you are very sure you love him, I think you would have a better chance of happiness than you have with a mother who cares so little for you that she is

Search For Loveliest Grand-Mother Being Made In Canada

The Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto is searching for Canada's loveliest grandmother. Who will she be? The grandmother chosen will be invited by the women's division of the exhibition to come to Toronto, with all expenses paid, and be introduced at a special ceremony at the band shell.

Canada's loveliest grandmother must be loved by her family, of happy and pleasant disposition, and be tolerant both of her own children and her grandchildren. She should be an adequate housekeeper and a good cook, though not an extravagant one.

It is also required that the woman selected for this unusual honor be a strength in her own community and a supporter of her church. She should be a woman who takes time to read and is interested in the problems of those about her. She must be a woman who is just as careful about her appearance at home as when she goes out and who keeps a watchful eye on the family budget. She may be of any age, nationality, size or coloring and have any number of grandchildren.

Anyone wishing to nominate a Canadian grandmother for this new C.N.E. title is asked to send the grandmother's name to the women's division, Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, by Aug. 18. Winner will be announced first week of the fair.

During her big day at the exhibition the country's loveliest grandmother will be entertained at a private luncheon, be escorted through the special exhibits and be introduced at the grandstand to comedian Danny Kaye.

Church Fete At Sooke

Next Thursday, the annual garden party of Holy Trinity Church will be held at "Ravenna," the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gates, Sooke. Mayor Percy E. George will open the affair at 3 and among other special guests invited are Dean G. R. Calvert, Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes and Mrs. Pearkes. Attractions will include clock golf, gold rush, home cooking, produce and white elephant stalls. Afternoon tea will be served on the lawn. At 3.45, little pupils of Miss Beverly Arnet will be presented in a program of dance numbers.

Even black patent leather is being put on the top of tables and sideboards. It's used on light oak bases for strictly modern dining rooms. Plastic patent is durable, and won't be damaged when wet glasses are placed on it.

Up-Island Couple Exchange Vows In St. Mary's Church

Musical circles share interest with up-island centres in the early afternoon wedding Saturday uniting Doris Austin Macdonald, and William Kerr MacNaughton.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Macdonald, Courtenay, and granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Macdonald, Oak Bay, the bride was wed in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, where she had been christened and where her parents were also married.

A corporal in the Canadian Women's Army Pipe Band during war years, she has distinguished herself in musical circles and holds the degree of L.R.S.M. and A.T.C.M.

Her groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kerr MacNaughton, Cumberland, served as a flying officer, R.C.A.F., in the European war theatre.

Midst a setting of colorful summer blossoms, Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunn heard the marriage vows.

Delicate tulle lace was posed over gleaming white taffeta to fashion the bride's mid-calf-length frock made with very full skirt, tiny cap sleeves, and completed with white velvet belt.

White velvet was repeated in a tiny cluster of roses trimming her white lace cloche, and she wore matching mittens.

Twin orchids in white encircled with white sweet peas and heather composed her Colonial bouquet.

Maid of honor for her cousin, Miss Mona L. Riach, Seattle, donned pale yellow nylon net over taffeta. She carried a Colonial bouquet of mauve sweet peas and yellow gladioli, and wore a matching wreath in her hair.

Addison R. Clements, Cumberland, was best man, and ushering were the bride's brothers, Jerry A. Macdonald and Roy A. Macdonald.

A reception followed in Olde England Inn, where the bride's mother, in a turquoise crepe frock and navy accessories, and mother of the groom, in softest grey blue with accessories in tone, assisted in welcoming guests.

E. A. Simmons, Vancouver, gave the bride's toast, and a three-tier cake, flanked by tall white candles in silver holders, was cut by the newlyweds.

For a motoring trip through the interior with stop-overs in Banff, Spokane and Seattle, the bride selected a beige doekin suit accentuated with matching hat trimmed with deeper brown to match her accessories. Her stole cape of self-checked homespun flared in the back, and she wore white orchids on corsage, and her groom's gift, emerald green stones and diamonds set in earrings and necklace.

Mr. and Mrs. MacNaughton will make their home at Cumberland.

THE SLIM SILHOUETTE

PARIS (AP) — North American women are going to be less busy and less hippy-looking next fall, according to Stanley Marcus, vice-president of Neiman Marcus incorporated of Dallas, Tex., now in Paris buying fall creations from French couturiers.

"The new season's profile is going to be very slim," he said in an interview. "Hips will not be padded at all and busts will not be made much of—we've had far too much busts these last three years."

The most important change, he believes, is in the new skirt silhouette, which clings down the hips and thighs before flaring into a low-placed flounce, kick pleats on godets.

India's tea production this year will approximate 590,000,000 pounds, more than half the world's total production.

St. Mary's Church Scene Of Attractive Rites

Miss Margaret Wood and David Alexander Munro exchanged nuptial vows in one of the season's most attractive weddings in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, recently. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Wood, 1230 Monterey Avenue, was attended by her sister, Mrs. Ken McShane, Vancouver; Mrs. W. Gordon Fields, sister of the groom, who came from Pacific Grove, Calif., for the occasion; and Miss Dianne Garrison, Port Alberni, as flower girl. The newlyweds, who honeymooned by motor in Washington and Oregon, are making their home here. Mr. Munro is the son of Mrs. M. Munro, 2630 Monterey Avenue. (Photo by Joncas)

Attendants' Gowns Reflect Warm Tones Of Mid-Summer Flowers At Wedding

The warm colors of mid-summer flowers were reflected in the taffeta gowns of the bridal party which preceded Rhona Margaret Combe down the aisle of Christ Church Cathedral Saturday night, for her marriage to Gordon Henry McMillan.

Pastel-hued gladioli intermingled with white in the standard baskets at the chancel rail, while white alone were used on the altar. Graham Steed played the wedding music.

Dean G. R. Calvert assisted by Rev. E. J. Hulford, conducted the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Combe, 1317 Vimy Avenue and the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. McMillan, 640 Cornwall Street.

White velvet satin in a lily-of-the-valley design, fashioned the bridal gown which gathered to a cuff of tulle, caught with pearls at the shoulders to continue to a net yoke and round neckline. The full skirt, slightly en train, was hooped in front and gathered with satin bows to reveal a lace underskirt.

A full-length veil cascaded down a coronet embroidered with beads and adorned with pieces of the orange blossoms, used by the bride's mother at her wedding. The bride wore a single strand of pearls and carried an arm bouquet of red roses and swainsona with sprigs of white heather. She was given in marriage by her brother, Nelson E. Combe.

Mrs. Margaret Allen was matron of honor in yellow printed taffeta with yellow mitts and bandeau of matching flowers. Mauve gladioli formed her arm bouquet. Mrs. Evelyn Gower of Vancouver and Miss Jean McMillan, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids in pale blue taffeta with blue lace mitts and bandeaux of blue velvet flowers.

Pink gladioli were in their arm bouquets. Miss Judy Platt was flower girl in floor-length yellow taffeta with mitts and bandeau in tone. She carried a colonial bouquet of velvet flowers.

William Graham supported the groom. Ushers were Alan Hodgson, Alan Bradbeer, Alan Ismay and John Moore.

A reception was held at Odd Fellows' Hall, where a three-tier cake centred the bride's lace-covered table. Vases of pink sweet peas and white tapers were on either side of the cake.

The bride wore a three-piece dark green gabardine suit with white accessories and corsage bouquet of cream roses and white heather for her going away costume. Following a honeymoon in Washington, Mr. and Mrs. McMillan will make their home at 1002 Caledonia Street.

Joan Mitchell Wed In Corded Taffeta Gown

A full-skirted corded taffeta gown in bridal white was worn by Joan Margaret Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Mitchell, 2821 Fifth Street for her marriage to Arthur Fraser Vallis, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Vallis, Colwood, in First United Church, Saturday night.

Rev. M. A. J. Waters read the nuptial service amid a floral setting of pastel-toned gladioli and gypsophila. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Gordon Armstrong of Creston sang "Because." Mr. Palmer was organist.

A lace bolero topped the bride's gown which was styled with fitted bodice, a skirt flaring full at the back and bracelet-length sleeves, fastened in front, with tiny covered buttons. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a finger-tip veil which misted daintly from a lace cap. Her crescent-shaped bouquet held white gladioli and sweet peas.

Miss Enes Mitchell, sister of the groom, was the only attendant in a gown of ice blue Skinner satin, fashioned similarly to that of the bride's. She wore long matching gloves and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and sweet peas which were repeated in her headress.

Mrs. D. H. Goodwyn played the wedding music and during the signing of the register, Mrs. Darrell Collins sang "I Love You Truly."

Herbert Smith of Vancouver was best man. Ushering guests were Peter Doherty, brother of the bride and Flori Gogan.

Capt. R. E. Barnett came from Nanaimo to propose the toast to his niece at the reception following the ceremony. A three-tier wedding cake which was decorated by the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. Petrie, held an ornament from the wedding cake of the bride's mother. White tapers and vases of pale pink rose buds decorated the table.

For a honeymoon to an undisclosed destination, the bride donned a delicate pale pink silk gabardine suit with navy blue and white accessories and gardenias in corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will reside at 1303 Lyall Street.

EQUAL PAY FOR WOMEN

Human Rights Resolution Passed At London Meeting

LONDON (AP)—The International Federation of Business and Professional Women wound up its fifth congress Saturday with a resolution reaffirming its belief in "the fundamental human rights of all people everywhere."

Delegates from 20 countries, including Canada, also came out strongly in favor of equal pay for women who do the same jobs as men.

In its "human rights" resolution, the congress said: "We believe that everyone should have the right to an effective remedy by the competent national tribunals for acts violating the fundamental rights granted him by the constitution or by law."

"No one should be subjected to a arbitrary arrest, detention or exile. Everyone is entitled in full equality to a fair and public hearing by an independent and impartial tribunal, in the determination of any criminal charge against him. Everyone charged with a penal offence should be presumed innocent until proved guilty according to law in a public trial."

The congress urged the setting up at once of some sort of international machinery to deal with "equal pay for women." It asked national federations to work for its ratification and implementation by individual governments.

Double-Ring Ceremony For Hilda Kirkby, Dr. K. King

A wedding of wide interest in Victoria was the double-ring ceremony in St. John's Anglican Church, Saturday evening which united Hilda Mary Kirkby, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Kirkby, 2923 Graham Street and Dr. Kenneth Marion King, son of the late Rev. George D. King and Mrs. King of Montana.

Canon A. E. Greenhalgh, a long-time friend of the bride's family read the nuptial service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Kaplan designed suit of green check in the new fall shade, masque, with model hat of Italian woven straw, adorned with flowers in cognac hue and beige-toned accessories. Her corsage bouquet contained Johanna Hill roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Bertram Kirkby was matron of honor in a masque-toned gabardine suit styled with back interest and longer jacket, a hat in Milan straw and accessories in natural. She wore yellow gladioli en corsage.

Fredrick Chubb, organist, played the wedding music while Miss Frouda Baker of Vancouver sang Beethoven's "Ich Liebe Dich."

Dr. Robert Glen of Ottawa was best man. Stanley Kirkby of Vancouver, younger brother of the bride and Alfred T. S. Wilkinson ushered.

A reception followed for a few close relatives and out-of-town guests at the home of the bride's parents, Canon Greenhalgh proposed the toast.

The bride selected a cloth topper of muscadel to wear over her wedding suit for a honeymoon to be spent on Vancouver Island and motoring to Banff and other points. On their return home Mr. and Mrs. King will make their home at 2032 Queenswood Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shallcross returned to their home in Vancouver last Saturday after a three-week holiday at Salt Spring Island and in Victoria.

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—A couple of Canadian army nurses took a day off last Thursday to ride with the R.C.A.F. Today they're credited with going farther north in Canada than any white women.

Matron F. M. Broham of Fort Churchill Hospital and a dietitian—her name is not known—flew to Cornwallis Island, 1,100 miles due north of Churchill and 600 miles north of the Arctic circle.

The flight was made to return to the island weather station the man in charge who had been in hospital here. Flying time for the round trip was 16 hours.

Angry Deputy P.M. Chases Photographer

STOCKHOLM (Reuter) — Herbert Morrison, British Deputy Prime Minister, Sunday night chased a press photographer out of the hotel in the West Swedish seaside resort of Moelle, where he is vacationing.

The chase began after the photographer had taken two pictures of Morrison as he left the hotel dining-room.

Seeing the flashes, Morrison sprang towards the photographer and darted after him as he ran out the door.

But the photographer ran faster than Morrison. The British minister and a head waiter helping him in the chase returned out of breath without their quarry.

92 Resolutions For U.B.C.M. Conclave

Taxes, Education, Hospitalization To Be Discussed By Municipalities

Ninety-two resolutions ranging from taxing of trust companies to enforcement of the Deserted Wives' Maintenance Act will go before the 47th convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, at Nelson, Sept. 19, 20 and 21.

The items for consideration which cover many phases of the municipal administrative and financial field, are contained in a booklet received by M. Frank Hunter, city clerk, today.

Victoria is presenting six resolutions, including one asking repeal of a subsection of the Trust Companies Act which prohibits municipalities from imposing on a trust company any license fee or tax for carrying on its business.

An increase in basic grants for education as recommended by the Cameron Report is requested by North Cowichan on the grounds of increased teachers' salaries and other current costs.

The village of Campbell River recommends the U.B.C.M. go on record opposing any reduction in the present distribution of the municipal share of the Social Service and Municipal Aid tax.

EQUALIZED ASSESSMENT
A system of hospital districts to equalize, on an assessment basis, raising of necessary funds for hospital construction, similar to the present school districts, is asked by Alberni.

Hospitalization, education, interest rates and upkeep of arterial highways within municipalities are touched upon by the various resolutions.

North Cowichan wants municipalities to have power to tax electric and power companies for new transmission lines on a mileage basis.

Alberni asked that the Attorney-General's department assist in enforcement of the Deserted Wives Maintenance Act.

Victoria has asked extension from 30 to 60 days for submission to the electorate of by-laws for school-board extraordinary expenditures. Along with several other centres, Victoria asked the U.B.C.M. to go on record favoring amendment of the Municipal Act to permit employees of school boards to be elected as members of municipal councils.

Permission to place benches on the sidewalk or boulevard at bus stops for accommodation of the public is sought by Victoria. The city will ask also that the Municipal Act be amended to prohibit sale of wildflowers.

Oak Bay has submitted resolutions covering taxation of private hospitals operated as commercial institutions, and a 30-mile an hour speed limit in the municipality. At present, under the Motor Vehicles Act, all district municipalities are under a 50-mile an hour speed limit.

CHIROPRACTIC FOR HEALTH

WATCH YOUR STEP

As we get older it becomes more and more important for us to watch our step. In childhood and youth we can take falls and jolts in our stride and scarcely notice them. As the body thickens and stiffens a misstep that results in a sudden jar or twist can be serious. And the most serious thing about it is that we seldom realize its far-reaching effects.

Just as a carelessly thrown lighted match or cigarette stub can cause a million dollar fire, so may a careless step start forces that result in chronic disease.

A standard question asked by Chiropractors of a new patient is whether the patient can recall having had a severe jolt or fall. In many cases the patient can recall such an accident, but it was "some time ago" and such a little thing that it couldn't possibly have anything to do with my present condition.

The Chiropractor explains that the fall or jar displaced a vertebra, causing pressure on spinal nerves, and interfering with the flow of vital energy over the nerves. Lacking this energy some part or parts of the body ceased to function normally, and symptoms of impaired health began to appear.

When the vertebra which started the trouble is restored to its normal position, and the nervous system is again operating efficiently, Nature will in time restore the body to normal health.
